BIG BRITISH VICTORY

*Key Egyptian City Falls;
3 Italian Generals Seized*

CAIRO, Dec. 11 (INS)—Capture of the vitally important Italian advance base at Sidi Barrani by Great Britain's Empire Army was officially announced here tonight. Three Italian generals were among a large number of Italian prisoners captured in what represents one of the greatest British victories of the entire war.

BRITISH SEIZE 6000 ITALIANS

CAIRO, Dec. 11 (INS)—With 30,000 Italo-Libyan troops apparently trapped in northwestern Egypt and an additional 6000 already captured, Britain's mechanized forces surged forward amid a deafening artillery din along a 30-mile battlefront today, threatening Mussolini's invading forces with annihilation.

37 British Warships Sunk, Italy Claims

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP)—Italian forces were reported authoritatively today to have sunk 37 British warships and 33 merchant vessels up to Dec. 10. These reports said 56 British warships and 41 merchant ships were damaged.

The Italians were said to have shot down 667 "enemy" planes. Loss of 110 Italian planes was acknowledged.

Twenty-three of the Italian navy's ships were sunk and four damaged, authorities said. They did not give the merchant shipping losses.

These British naval losses were reported:

SUNK—Four cruisers, 13 destroyers and 20 submarines.

DAMAGED—Seven battleships, 29 cruisers, 11 destroyers, six aircraft carriers and three submarines. These Italian naval losses were listed:

SUNK—One cruiser, five destroyers, 10 submarines, three light warships and four torpedo boats.

DAMAGED—Three battleships, one destroyer.

ITALIANS CONFIRM RETREAT IN EGYPT

ROME, Dec. 11 (AP)—Italian desert troops have been forced back to Sidi Barrani, main advance post of the Fascist invasion of Egypt, from a point to the southeast by British armored divisions, the high command acknowledged today.

Italian Gen. Maletti was killed while leading his Libyan troops, today's communique said, and added that heavy casualties were inflicted on the British in fierce fighting.

The British assault, the high command said, began at dawn Monday, when "armored divisions attacked our line southeast of Sidi Barrani held by formations of Libyan troops."

"These troops at first resisted gallantly, but after some hours were overcome and retreated to Sidi Barrani."

The bulletin, first official mention in Rome of the engagement, said that fighting "of exceptional violence" had continued all day Monday.

The conflict proceeded yesterday, it said, and the "January Third" division of Italian black shirt troops and the first division of Libyans were said to have held out and inflicted "serious losses" on the attackers.

"Fierce fighting is continuing in this zone," the communique said, with the Italian air force aiding ground troops by machine-gunning and bombing the British.

PRIEST-EDITOR DIES

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (INS)—Rev. Francis J. Healy, 57, editor-in-chief of the Catholic weekly, The Tablet, was dead today in a Brooklyn hospital. Father Healy born in Worcester, Mass., in

A brief official communique issued at army headquarters said: —

"Operations are progressing satisfactorily in the western desert, where more than 6000 Italian prisoners are now reported captured, together with quantities of war material which has not yet been sorted out."

"Active patrolling continues on the Sudan frontier. On other fronts the situation is unchanged."

Isolated pockets of Italian troops are being systematically wiped up, it was said.

Detonation of tank guns and heavy aerial bomb explosions were heard throughout the night as the British advance continued without respite.

During every hour of the three-day battle the RAF held mastery of the air, headquarters declared. Enemy bases, transport lines and troop concentrations were hammered relentlessly.

"The sky over the battlefield was filled with British planes," the announcement said.

London reported today that six Italian planes were shot down yesterday over Egypt and three others were seen to fall out of control. Earlier reports received here said that up to last night 4000 Italian troops had been captured and the two Italian divisions were trapped.

British reports indicated these successes were gained by one of the most powerful co-ordinated land, naval and aerial assaults ever seen on any battlefront.

In the Mediterranean just off the coast British warships hurled shells into Italian communication lines, while British bombers pounded Italian defense posts stretching back 250 miles.

On the ground the British troops in their mechanical war monsters thundered ahead between the Egyptian plateau and the Mediterranean, dealing out military blows matching those meted out to the Fascists in Albania by the bayonet-wielding Greeks.

LORD LOTHIAN ILL

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Lord Lothian, the British ambassador, was stricken with a slight internal disturbance which his physician ascribed to fatigue. The ambassador was confined to his room, but not to his bed.

A BRITISH OFFENSIVE—Arrow shows British army sweep to Mediterranean between Buqbuq and Italian advance base at Sidi Barrani. British fleet and Royal Air Force shelled and bombed coast towns marked by stars. Latest bulletins report the capture of 6000 Italians in northwestern Egypt by British mechanized forces.

LOADED FOR ITALIANS—A British soldier finds an interested listener in his Egyptian policeman friend as he explains the operation of one of Britain's field pieces at a desert outpost. Hundreds of these guns today were being used in successful attacks against the Italians in Egypt.

Report Italians Set To Quit All Albania

By A. E. ANGELOPOULOS

International News Service Staff Correspondent

ATHENS, Dec. 11 (INS)—With Premier Mussolini's harried legions reportedly preparing to evacuate all Albania, Greek forces today pressed forward on the northern front in a determined drive against the central Albanian base of Elbasan.

Despite heavy snow and winds of gale velocity, heavy fighting began near Radocol in the Lake Ochrid region as the fight for possession of Elbasan swung into action.

Fierce hand-to-hand fighting progressed on the northern slope of the Mokra mountain range, while other Greek detachments continued their advance along the Skumbi and Devoli river valleys in the central section, meeting stiff resistance as they moved forward.

North of Fogradia Greek forces were approaching the town of Lina, according to advices received in Athens.

The reports of a possible evacuation arose from information that the Fascists are frantically fortifying the port of Durazzo. Military experts regarded this as a preparation for an evacuation.

R. A. F. headquarters in Athens announced that British planes again raided the harbor of Valona. Direct hits were scored on the port, debarkation point for Italian troops in South Albania. Other bombs fell among buildings, a munitions dump and transport park. All the planes returned safely to base.

The London News Chronicle reported that the Greeks captured hundreds of prisoners, a million hand grenades and millions of cartridges as well as hundreds of trench mortars, and 500 horses after overwhelming several Italian supply bases.—Editor's Note.

Informed quarters claimed the Greek advance had reached objectives which would cause a "sensation" if they were revealed.

Knife-Wielding Greeks Add to Italians' Woes

ATHENS, Dec. 11 (AP)—Fierce knife-wielding men from the wild hills of Crete, surpassed in toughness only by Greece's famous mountain troops, have been thrown into the Greek front line attack against the retreating Italians, it was disclosed today.

The men from Crete, dark, hardy Mediterraneans, have already engaged the Italians, one dispatch from the front said, brandishing their long, gleaming knives which they prefer to bayonets in close fighting, they charged the Italians.

Their strength and ferocity astounded and seemed to terrify the Italians, the dispatch said.

VOLUNTARY WORKERS PACK YULE SHIP CASES
Summer St. Headquarters Busy as Deadline Nears

LURIE IN ROBERT'S PAROLE JOB, MEINS REPLACES GRANT

Reuben L. Lurie of Brookline, crusading attorney of the Boston Bar Association, was named chairman of the State Parole Board, and Carroll L. Meins, chief secretary to the Governor, was made chairman of the Public Utilities Commission today in a list of 39 appointments and reappointments sent by Governor Saltonstall to his executive council.

Announcement of these two appointments—which were immediately confirmed by the councilors—revealed that Chairman Ralph W. Robert of the parole board had asked retirement and that Chairman Joseph R. Cotton of the utilities board had stepped down to accept another post.

Robert will be retired on $2750 a year, half the $5500 chairmanship salary, while Cotton, relinquishing the $3000 berth, will become "Counsel to the Governor," a new position created after one in the New York State government.

Meins, who has been chief secretary to the governor for two years, replaces Richard D. Grant, former secretary to Gov. Carley. A native and resident of Roxbury, he entered politics in 1923 and served five years in the legislature.

Lurie, in his capacity as chief investigator for the Boston Bar Ass'n, was responsible for the resignations of John Patrick Connolly as clerk of superior civil court and John F. Dowd as sheriff, and the conviction of Connolly on bribe charges. Dowd is still a fugitive from similar charges.

In his letter to the Governor asking retirement, Robert said that criticism leveled at him in "an opinionated report" by the special legislative commission investigating pardons and paroles "has impaired my efficiency, not only as chairman, but also has destroyed any further usefulness in any capacity on the board."

FILLS BOXING JOBS

Robert, a World War veteran and holder of the Congressional Medal of Honor, said the finding of the investigating commission exonerated him from wrongdoing, but nevertheless gave "an opinionated report that I lack the necessary leadership and should be retired as chairman."

He has, he said, "labored unselfishly and unceasingly to make the Massachusetts parole system second to none in the country," but because of the report was obliged to request retirement under the veterans' retirement act.

The appointment of Lurie and Meins headed an important list by the governor which included two

Trucks Gather Last Gifts for Yule Ship

By JAMES DOOLING

Fleets of trucks were making their last calls today for hundreds of packages of clothing and shoes collected by generous New Englanders for A CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND.

These trucks, from Christmas Ship headquarters and from member companies of the Motor Truck Club of Mass., Inc., began their work at dawn and must have it completed by nightfall.

To all, therefore, who have charge of police and fire stations, schools and clubs, business firms, patriotic, fraternal or civic organizations, this appeal is addressed:

Please notify Christmas Ship headquarters at 100 or 72 Summer st., Boston (telephones, LIBerty 2548, 2584 or 2658) if you have any parcels waiting to be collected. This must be done immediately or these donations cannot be packed in time for the Christmas shipments.

Every hours delay means so much more difficulty in handling the overwhelming last-hour rush of gifts that must be carried to Boston offices, sorted, listed, and packed.

This final rush was anticipated, but the tremendous volume of it was something no one had foreseen.

It is absolutely necessary that every bit of merchandise from all collection stations be delivered today.

CLOSING WORK

For the closing work of the Christmas Ship campaign today, tomorrow, Friday and Saturday forenoon have been set aside.

This is the work of preparing the last cases for overseas. MANY MORE VOLUNTEERS ARE NEEDED FOR THIS TASK. WILL YOU HELP?

It doesn't matter whether you are able to work for only a few hours, or for a day, or for an evening.

Under direction of their president, Mrs. R. M. Magee, 29 members of the Friday Club of Everett worked for more than four hours each at this task and were tired, but enthusiastic at the end of the

Wally Resting Well In Miami Hospital

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Dec. 11 (AP)—The Duchess of Windsor rested comfortably in a hospital today after a major dental surgery so unexpectedly serious that the Duke abandoned plans for an early return to Nassau.

Hospital attendants said she was in good spirits and feeling better after a night's rest. A morning report read:

"The Duchess had a fairly comfortable night. At 8 p. m. last evening, temperature advanced to 99.4 At 9 p. m. it receded to 99.2. At 11 p. m. was near normal, at which it has remained to the present time.

"This morning the Duchess is in good spirits and feeling better."

The Duke, Governor of the British Bahamas, indicated that the Duchess' condition would determine how long the couple's emergency visit to the United States would be extended.

A noon report today from Dr. Cartee and two assisting physicians said the period of danger to the Duchess would not be passed before Saturday, indicating the Windsors will not be able to leave this week-end as planned.

The Windsors, making their first trip to the Duchess' native country since their marriage, originally intended to leave Friday on the S. S. Munargo after she had recuperated at the Miami Biltmore Hotel.

Axel Wenner-Gren, owner of the yacht Southern Cross, on which the Windsors came here, directed Capt. Ale Rothman to ready the vessel for a possible return voyage.

The Duchess underwent the operation, removal of an infected lower right molar and scraping part of the bone softened by abscess, four hours after her arrival, while Edward remained nearby in the hospital.

POLICE SEEK HER SLUGGER—Avoiding a youth about 22 who accosted her in the Back Bay railroad station, Miss Alice Antin, 18, of Dedham, a Back Bay business school student, became the target of his punches in an attempted attack. When struck down, her screams brought nearby cab drivers. Her attacker fled. She suffered facial injuries.

HARVARD TREASURE ROOM STILL HOLDS FIRST COPY OF "AMERICA"

As relatives of the composer and manuscript authorities debated the sale at a New York city auction for $1500 of the original copy of "My Country 'Tis of Thee," Harvard University today peeked into the treasure room of the Widener Library and announced it still had the original working copy. However, university authorities pointed out that the Rev. Samuel F. Smith, the composer of the song, was known as an obliging person who made up copies in his own hand for friends who wished to have them.

It is thought that the one purchased Monday night by Barney Belaban, Chicago motion picture Balaban, Chicago motion picture for the benefit of the Red Cross to aid in its work in England, was one of these copies.

The furore over the sale started when Miss Mary White Jones, great-granddaughter of the composer, expressed surprise at the reported sale. She said the original was presented to Harvard University 25 years ago.

Check at the Widener Library today revealed the working original still there. Because the Harvard copy shows unmistakable signs of having been worked on by the composer, it is thought by manuscript authorities that there can be little or no doubt of its authenticity.

MRS. F. S. MEYER AND DR. E. HILLHOUSE POOLE
Socialites File Intentions to Wed

Back Bay Divorcee Gets Bridal Waiver

Once the bride in a White House romance, Mrs. Frances Saltonstall Meyer, 47, of Arlington st., Back Bay, filed marriage intentions today at City Hall with Eugene Hillhouse Poole, 66-year-old New York surgeon.

Immediately after filing of the intentions the couple motored to Dorchester court where they secured a waiver of the five-day law from Judge Richard D. Walsh, presiding justice.

In her intentions the intended bride said this was her second marriage. She secured a divorce at Reno on May 28, 1937, on cruelty grounds, from George Von Lengerke Meyer, son of the former Secretary of the Navy and former ambassador to Italy and Russia.

MOTHER OF THREE

The surgeon said in his intentions that his home is in E. 60th st., New York city, and this was his third marriage.

His first marriage ended on July 28, 1930, when he was divorced at Reno by Heather Hottin Poole. There are two sons by that marriage, James Poole, 33, and Beckman, 30.

The second wife died in New York on Jan. 24, 1936.

Dr. Poole said he was born on Staten Island, the son of John H.

Poole and Sophia Stuart (Boggs) Poole, both natives of New Brunswick, N. J.

The Boston society woman is the mother of two sons and a daughter—George von L. Meyer 33, 23, Charles Meyer, 22, and Miss Frances Meyer, 20.

CAPITOL COURTSHIP

She is the former Frances S. Saltonstall, youngest daughter of Philip L. Saltonstall and Frances (Sherwood) Saltonstall of Brush Hill rd., Milton.

She made her debut in 1911 and two years later, on Dec. 20, 1913, was married to George Von L. Meyer as the climax of a courtship that had started in Washington when his father was in President Taft's cabinet.

Meyer had graduated from Harvard in June of 1913, where he was a member of the varsity crew. In the World War he became a captain on the staff of Maj.-Gen. Leonard Wood and was detailed for military intelligence in Washington.

Irate Wife Calls Number on Hubby's Memo

DENVER, Dec. 11 (AP)—Miss Rosa Murray, chief clerk of a draft board, picked up the telephone.

"Who do you think you are and what are you trying to get away with?" demanded an angry female voice.

Miss Murray explained she was the draft board clerk.

"Oh," said the caller. "I just found a note in my husband's pocket saying to call Miss Murray. You understand, don't you?"

NEW COINS FOR FRANCE

VICHY, France, Dec. 11 (AP)—New French coins of five, 10 and 20 francs in value, bearing a likeness of Chief of State Philippe Petain, have been authorized by the government.

Deer, Dear, a Headache!

NOCONA, Tex., Dec. 11 (AP)—Oh, deer!

Sheriff Dick Lawrence found himself in a predicament today with an unruly prisoner in the county jail at Montague.

It was a two-point buck deer charged with attacks on school children.

But the animal can't be executed because there is no legal season on deer in Montague County.

On the other hand, there is no legal provision for feeding him. A Fort Worth Zoo flatly turned down the deer as a gift.

Some of the town's legal lights suggested the deer could be taken to Mason County, where there is an open season, and killed, but it is illegal to kill a buck with less than three points.

The deer was raised as a pet but he playfully bruised a school child and kept another up a tree for several hours.

So the sheriff lassoed him and hauled him off to jail.

8 RICKENBACKER SEES U. S. DRAWN INTO WAR

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (INS)—America's current generation is doomed to a lower standard of living regardless of how the World War ends, a dictatorship if the British should lose, and active American involvement in the war if the British should hold out six months longer against the German blitzkrieg.

Capt. Edward V. Rickenbacker, World War ace, left this warning today as he pleaded in a speech before the Economic Club for a huge expansion in commercial aviation and a greater stress on developing a vast reservoir of pilots and ground crews.

This vast reservoir of pilots, developed by a peacetime aviation industry expanded to meet the requirements of an emergency, should, Rickenbacker said, he required to obtain from 600 to 1000 hours of all kinds of military flying.

"By co-ordinating the civil aeronautics authority's training program with the commercial program and the military program," he said "we would have a reservoir of pilot material constantly in the making, and secondary to none."

SEES DICTATORSHIP

Speaking with utmost gravity, Rickenbacker said:

"You of this generation are enjoying liberties at this moment that you will never enjoy again as long as you live. You are enjoying a standard of living that you never again will enjoy, regardless of the outcome of World War No. 2."

"Should the British capitulate, America will and must become the greatest militaristic nation in the world for the protection of the Western Hemisphere and everything within 2000 miles of its shore in any direction.

"This will not cost ten to twenty billions of dollars, but will cost one hundred to one hundred and fifty billions of dollars within the next 10 years."

"That means dictatorship, which, in turn, means loss of liberties."

VISIONS HIGHER TAXES

"The expenditure of one hundred to one hundred and fifty billions of dollars in addition to the fifty-billion-dollar debt existing means taxes upon taxes, and more taxes, which means a drastic lowering of our standard of living."

"Should the British government be driven from the British Isles and retreat to Canada with her navy, it will mean the merging of the English-speaking peoples of the world, and again the militarizing of the Western Hemisphere with its huge expenditure, and its huge taxation. This again means loss of liberties and lowering of the standard of living."

"Last, but not least, should these gallant British withstand the terrific onslaught of the totalitarian states until the summer of 1941, it is my sincere conviction that by that time this nation will have declared total war on the totalitarian states, meaning—

"1—The complete co-operation of our Navy and that of the British Empire.

PREDICTS TOTAL WAR

"2—The amendment of our neutrality act permitting American ships with munitions and supplies to sail the oceans of the world again."

"3—It will mean the amendment of the Johnson act permitting billions upon billions of credit to the British, which will not be repaid any more than the debts of the World War No. 1."

"4—It will mean shipment of thousands upon thousands of fighting aircraft and long-range bombers."

"5—It will mean thousands of American pilots and thousands upon thousands of American mechanics being transported overseas."

"6—Last, but not least, it may eventually mean millions of our army being transported to the old world with all of the latest and most deadly instruments of war for the continental invasion and the final blow to the totalitarian states."

"This will mean a minimum of three years' total war, and a grave possibility of it lasting for five or six years."

"All of which means the expenditure of one hundred to one hundred and fifty billion dollars with its loss of liberties, and taxes upon taxes with their consequent lowering of our standard of living."

POINTS TO DEBT

"To the leaders of finance and industry, well may you remember that this country's national debt was only one billion dollars at the start of World War No. 1, and well may you remember that today we have a national debt of approximately fifty billions of dollars."

"The war of 1914-1918 cost this nation forty-seven billions of dollars, and due to the improved deadliness of methods and weapons since the World War, the rapidity of destruction of both mankind and property will be many times greater—meaning that should this nation be forced into this war it will cost us another 150 billions of dollars."

"This will leave us with a national debt of approximately two hundred billion dollars when peace is declared, all of which means the dollar will be worth very little and the clothes on your back may be your only assets."

WARNS OF DEPRESSION

"Bear in mind when peace is declared, and that day is as sure as death and taxes, with 40 to 50 millions of men being thrown back into productive effort, and their countries' treasuries and pantries being empty, men will become serfs and slaves for the sake of three meals a day and a place to rest their weary bones at night."

"It will bring about a depression in this country that will jar our teeth loose and make the depression of 1929 to date a mimic affair by comparison."

PREPARE NOW

"Who dare say with a debt of two hundred billion dollars that the youth of this nation will accept such obligations in the future for the mistakes of the past?"

"Inflation, and inflation alone, will follow as it did in Germany during those disastrous years from 1921 to 1926."

"Face these facts like true Americans and the problem is not insurmountable. Fail and the consequences multiply."

"I say to you and the rest of my fellow Americans, we had better prepare today to die fighting, rather than to fight dying."

SHIRLEY WARREN
Defends Posing

Undraped 'Art' Aired In Court

A lady wearing a kimono opened the door, smiled, and said "Hello," as the friendly officer smiled right back, said "Hello," and then followed her upstairs and raided the studio in which 10 earnest male students of art were busily photographing two lovely undraped models seated on a leopard skin.

That was the story told today in Suffolk Superior Court before Judge James M. Hurley and a jury. It all came about as Shirley Warren, 13, of Mather st., Dorchester, professional model, opened her fight against charges she was an impure person in speech and behavior because raiding officers found pictures for which she had posed.

GIRL NOT PRESENT

Even though Miss Warren was not present at the raid, police took the pictures of her to Roxbury court where she was found guilty of morals charges by Judge Frankland L. Miles and given a suspended reformatory sentence.

She appealed on the ground she is a professional model and that her posing was all in the name of art.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward M. Sullivan told the court the government disagreed with her and that while all the men taken in the raid on the studio located in a Monadnock st., Dorchester, apartment had honorable occupations, he could not imagine them as esthetic artists.

LION TAMER HERE

He then proceeded to tell judge and jury that the little art group was composed of one each of the following: A lion tamer (he is said to have donated the rug from a deceased animal), foreman of an industrial plant, an upholsterer, a variety store proprietor, a truck driver, an employee of a smelting firm, a cosmetician and several businessmen.

The first witness for the prosecution was Special Officer Joseph Cullinane, who led the raiders and had the pleasant encounter with the lady who opened the door.

He said that after police gained entrance to the attic studio they found the 10 art devotees busily engaged with lens and tripod.

VERY BUSINESSLIKE

It was all very businesslike, he said. So much so that when he inadvertently got in the way of one student he was ordered to move.

Before starting hearings on the appeal of Miss Warren, Judge Hurley inquired if any of the jurors believed in or were devotees of nudism. If so, he said, they would be excused.

No one left the jurors box and the case is still continuing.

U. S. History As Told by Nazi Radio

New England who studied United States history in the good old days have had many ashock from best-selling novelists, but a broadcast from the Nazi government short-wave station DJC is just too much.

The Americans didn't win the Revolutionary War at all—it was the Germans, some unknown authority in Berlin by the name of F. W. Something-or-Other de-claimed over the air waves.

Gen. von Steuben did the job almost single-handed while George Washington and Lafayette cheered him on.

And remember the setting of Francis Scott Key's "Star Spangled Manner"? It was really the Germans who were winning the War of 1812 for the American nation.

In the Mexican War of 1847, one German general led the troops into Monterey, another conquered Chapultepec and another occupied Vera Cruz. Of course there were some U. S. soldiers in the picture, but they were only following orders.

While the Union Army had some other races represented in its ranks, the death-blow to the Confederacy was delivered by the Germans, F. W. also explained.

German generals won the victories of Missionary Ridge, turned the tide at Gettysburg, defended St. Louis and kept Missouri and Kentucky from going to the South. Shades of Grant and Sherman! The Germans even marched to the sea and took Richmond.

Even Barbara Fritchie, who saved the colors by showing a brave front to Stonewall Jackson when his troops were marching through Maryland, was a German. Her maiden name was Hauser.

And to top it all off, when President Lincoln was looking for a loan to save the Union, where did he get it but from Germany.

What an amateur Baron Munchausen was!

VAUDEVILLIAN DIES

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11 (AP)—John Hyams, 71, former vaudeville actor and father of Lella Hyams Berg, motion picture actress, was dead today. He is survived also by his widow, Mrs. Lella Hyams, his vaudeville partner.

New Draft Quotas Out Today

While local draft boards awaited release some time today of quotas expected from each community in the second call, authorities disclosed plans destined to make Boston a booming military center during January.

A large part of the Massachusetts quota of 1717 men will be inducted here starting Jan. 3, and on top of that at least 10,000 members of the famed Yankee Division will gather here to enter active service, beginning about Jan. 15.

About five days later, the division, which won high honors in the World War, is expected to be at Camp Edwards. The YD, it is said, will hold its own induction. It also was indicated that the major part of the examinations will be held at the camp.

COMPLETE BY NIGHT

By nightfall, individual quotas for the Bay State's 153 draft boards are expected to be established. It will then be only a few days before men selected for one year's military training will be required to be ready for preliminary examinations.

In all, New England has been asked to supply 4771 men for the second call.

At Fort Devens meanwhile the first batch of volunteer drafters received their first pay. The total amounted to $3800 for some 900 young men, but none received more than $310, while some received only 70 cents.

The pay was figured on the basis of $21 monthly.

11 TO FORT ALLEN

Fourteen of the first drafters were preparing to leave for Fort Ethan Allen in Vermont for service with the 8th quinquennial corps, following their transfer.

From Washington came the announcement by the War Department that 20,000 more reserve officers would probably be called to active service by next June.

Although the Army expects to have about 30,000 of its 110,000 eligible reserve officers on active duty at the end of the year, officials said thousands more would be needed to train recruits who will be sent into camps next year.

The War Department also ordered 30 regular army units to new stations, more than half of them to Fort Devens.

National Guard Warning on Tickets

Adj. Gen. Edgar C. Erickson of the Massachusetts National Guard today warned persons planning to buy tickets for any Guard function to make sure the sellers have proper credentials, or written permission from him to hold the affair.

There have been some complaints against unauthorized persons selling tickets on the strength of the popularity of the Guard, he said.

Yule Decorations Out, Children's Shoes In

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 11 (AP)—More than two miles of Columbus' busy High st. will be bare of Christmas decorations this year so that children may have shoes.

The North Side Commercial Club, which annually provides the decorations, announced that funds this year will be used to buy approximately 280 pairs of shoes for needy children.

Grave Digger Kills Himself With Own Pick

BLANCHARD, Cal., Dec. 11 (AP)—H. B. Smith, 59-year-old cemetery caretaker, accidentally killed himself with his own pick as he was digging a grave.

As Smith swung the pick it glanced off the side of the grave and pierced the back of his skull. He died instantly.

12 Guardian Refused For Brookline Wife

Without comment today, Judge James F. Reynolds in Dedham Probate Court dismissed the petition brought by Austin A. Quimby, Brookline contractor, for appointment of a guardian over his attractive blonde wife, Florence Louise Quimby.

The contractor has asked the guardian on the ground that his wife was a spendthrift and was squandering her private income on excessive drinking.

She had testified that her present private income is about $2000 a year. It is said, however, that shortly she will inherit approximately $250,000.

The judge took the case under advisement after a private conference.

In her testimony Mrs. Quimby, who stated her age is 31, despite testimony that a birth certificate showed her to be only 27, declared that her husband called an ambulance to send her to an Arlington sanatorium after they had trouble over a proposed trip to Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Quimby said her husband wanted to go with her five-year-old daughter and Miss Jolly, and leave her at home. She denied her husband's allegation that she was drinking heavily GETS DECREE—Marriage for Mrs. Leta S. Gosden and her husband, Freeman Gosden, Amos of the radio team, today was ended, she having won a divorce in Los Angeles. Gosden did not contest the suit.

ELSIE ROBINSON writes the woman's viewpoint, discusses everyday affairs and problems, regularly in the Boston American.

Socialite Attacked, Kidnaped by Butler

GREENWICH, Ct., Dec. 11 (INS)—Mrs. Eleanor Strubing, 32, socially prominent, was attacked, bound and gagged, and thrown into Kensico reservoir over the New York State line today by a Negro, police disclose.

Mrs. Strubing escaped drowning, succeeding in throwing off the ropes that bound her and swimming to shore.

Police arrested Mrs. Strubing's Negro butler, Joseph Still, 31, employed in her household only a short time.

Mrs. Strubing was found on the shore of the reservoir, dazed and incoherent but suffering only minor injuries. She was taken to St. Agnes Hospital, White Plains, N.Y.

Her assailant faces federal kidnapping charges because the victim, after being attacked in her home, was held prisoner four hours, transported across the state line into New York State and thrown into the water.

St. Agnes' Hospital reported that Mrs. Strubing was "doing all right." She is the wife of John K. Strubing, New York advertising executive.

Mrs. Peter F. Tague's Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Josephine Tague, wife of Peter F. Tague, postmaster of the Boston postal district, will be held from her home, 21 Monument sq., Charlestown, Friday, at 9:30 a. m., with a high mass of requiem in St. Mary's Church, Warren st., Charlestown, at 10 a. m. Burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery, Malden.

Mrs. Tague died at her home early today. Her husband, Postmaster Tague, and two sons, Philip and Peter F. Tague, Jr., a deputy sheriff of Suffolk County, and other relatives were present when she passed away. She had been ill 10 days. She was in her 63d year.

$1100 DRUG STORE THEFT

Police estimated at $1100 today the value of a quantity of liquor, goods, tobacco and drugs stolen by burglars from the Ivy Drug Store, Park drive, Rock Bay.

Industry Asks U. S. War Stand

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (INS)—American industry today challenged the government to tell it whether or not this country faces involvement in war.

Not until this question is answered, declared H. W. Francis, Jr., President of the National Association of Manufacturers, can the nation's productive apparatus fill its defense role with maximum efficiency.

In his keynote address before industrialists from all parts of the land at the opening of the association's 44th annual convention Francis asked:

"Must we intend to protect?"

"To what extent is the government proposing ultimately to reach out beyond these physical areas in which our national interests are directly at stake?"

Love for Family Wins Him Leniency

Because he is devoted to his wife and nine children, Carl G. Nelson, 38, a WPA worker, was permitted to rejoin that family today after he won leniency on a federal charge of forging a WPA check for $25.83.

After the penitent Nelson pleaded guilty, Asst. U. S. Atty. Arthur J. B. Carver told Judge Hugh D. McEllan that Nelson "loves his family and is industrious, but, like many a good citizen, has been craving for liquor at times." He was placed on probation.

CAREY ELECTED IN REVERE

Victor in one of the hot Revere election battles on Jan. 1 Raymond E. Carey today was mayor-elect of the Beach City by a margin of 1403 votes over City Treasurer Thomas U. Kelly.

The Revere election highlighted a day of voting which saw Mayor Daniel E. McLean re-elected in Beverly, Mayor Francis J. O'Hara of North Adams defeated by Faxon Bowen, Independent, Stewart E. Rowe chosen mayor of Portsmouth, N. H., and Charles Commissioner David J. Burke of Lawrence defeated by Timothy H. Shins.

Former Mayor Cassin was elected treasurer of Revere.

Waring Blames Air Chains in Music Row

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—The nation's orchestra leaders, says Fred Waring, are not to blame if they prove unable to play favorite tunes over the radio.

Waring contended, after a committee meeting of orchestra men yesterday, that the radio companies were seeking to create "a monstrous monopoly" by controlling the production of music, in addition to its distribution over the air and through radio-controlled recording companies.

FIRST CRISIS

He told newsmen the fight between the American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers and the nation-wide broadcasting companies over ASCAP fees was the "first general crisis" facing the band leaders since the World War orchestra leaders as Eddy Duchin, Nathaniel Shilkret and Meyer

Davis presented a report which described as "fruitful" the committee's efforts to bring principals together.

Neville Miller, president of the National Association of Broadcasters, said in a statement:

"No one regrets more than the broadcasters that ASCAP is depriving band leaders of certain of the musical material which has been closely identified with them."

DATE ADVANCED

The National Broadcasting Co. has advanced from Jan. 1 to Dec. 23 the banning of all ASCAP music from its commercial programs. NBC President Niles T. Trammell said the company wished to avoid any confusion that might result from a quick changeover to non-ASCAP music when the present contract with ASCAP expires. All ASCAP music on NBC sustaining programs is scheduled to stop next Monday.

The Columbia and the Mutual Broadcasting Systems already have banned ASCAP music from their sustaining programs, and their ending an ASCAP music tie for commercial programs is Jan. 1.

The change in the use of a substitute the music of Broadcast Music Inc., which they established to compete with ASCAP.

$300 Union Job Fee Defended

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Inquiring, at the suggestion of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, why union fees charged electrical workers at Ft. Belvoir, Va., a House committee heard testimony yesterday. A union representative testified that a $300 down payment was required toward a $300 membership cost.

David W. Thomas, an itinerant electrician now living in a trailer camp at Alexandria, Va., had told the Tar Commission investigating migrant labor that when he applied for work at Fort Belvoir three weeks ago he was informed a union job fee was necessary.

He explained that 25 of the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers (B.E.W.) in Washington, he said, and was told that a $300 initiation fee was required for membership. "I lost all interest then," Thomas added.

C. F. Pender, the local union's business agent, in the stand quoted $30 as the initial required payment. "As for paying $300 down," he said, "those things just don't happen."

The $300 initiation fee, he testified, has not been charged for nearly 17 years. He contended that it may be for stabilization among the union members. A written examination is necessary, he explained, before an experienced electrician can join.

ENGINEER DROPS DEAD

Colleges suddenly a heart attack later, is he was going in a Quincy, Ill., restaurant. George Atherton, 37, assistant in the engineering department at Ford (T-28) shipyard, was pronounced dead on removal to the Quincy City Hospital. Atherton's home is in Chevy Chase, Md.

Notice of Redemption to the Holders of

The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, formerly so named, now named Boston Edison Company, First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, Sinking Fund 3 1/2% Due 1965

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture of Trust and First Mortgage dated as of July 1, 1915 between The Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston (formerly so named, but now named Boston Edison Company) and Old Colony Trust Company, as trustee, that said Boston Edison Company has called for payment, as a whole, on January 10, 1941 its issue of First Mortgage Bonds, Series A, Sinking Fund 3 1/2% Due 1965, amounting in the aggregate to $500,000 and has deposited with said Old Colony Trust Company, as Trustee, funds sufficient to pay the principal amount of said issue, the redemption premium and accrued interest thereon to said redemption date.

On said redemption date said Bonds will become due and payable and will be redeemed at the price of One Thousand and Seventy Dollars ($1,070) for each $1000 principal amount of said Bonds, together with accrued interest to said redemption date. The principal amount of said Bonds and premium thereon together with accrued interest from January 1, 1941 to redemption date will be paid upon presentation and surrender thereof, with the July 1, 1941 and all subsequent coupon attached, at the office of Old Colony Trust Company, 17 Court Street, Boston, Massachusetts, or at the election of the holders at the office of The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, 41 Broad Street, Borough of Manhattan, City and State of New York. The interest due January 1, 1941 on such of said Bonds as are in coupon form will be paid upon presentation of the coupons due on that date in the usual manner and the interest due January 1, 1941 on fully registered Bonds without coupons will be paid on that date in the usual manner. Payment of said Bonds together with the premium thereon and interest to redemption date will be made in advance of redemption date at any time on and after the date hereof upon such presentation and surrender provided that if Bonds in coupon form are so presented prior to January 1, 1941, the January 1, 1941 coupon and all subsequent coupons are attached.

Interest on said Bonds shall cease on January 10, 1941 and the coupons maturing subsequent to that date shall be void.

Trucks Gather Last Gifts to Yule Ship

evening. This was the largest single club representation thus far. If you can give up some part of your time during these next four days, will you kindly headquarters at 100 or 72 Summer st., or come ready to help anytime after 6:30 a. m.?

It is hard work, but the volunteers who do it are more than repaid by the deep satisfaction of a job well-done, in the cause of humanity.

GIFTS FOR IN

When you do come to headquarters, you will see how the gifts for the Christmas Ship are pouring in. During the last 24 hours trucks have collected from Watertown, Quincy, Brockton, Sandwich, Falmouth, South Yarmouth, Hingham, Hull, Cohasset, Braintree and Weymouth, Gardner, Brookfield, Holden, Lunenburg, Grafton, and scores of other communities. And there are still scores more to be visited today. These scores, multiplied by the hundreds of articles that must be handled from each, will give you some idea of the packing task ahead.

In the latest contributions, the William P. Connerly, Jr. Post 6, A. L. bought $100 worth of the best woolen socks and sent them to headquarters. The Bargain Center, of Quincy, donated a large cation of new woolen mufflers and steel raincoats.

NEW DONATIONS

Hudson Post 100, A. L. gave four large cartons of assorted garments and the George S. Shepard Post 6 of North Easton contributed many parcels of garments and footwear.

Sandwich Post 188, A. L. gave four large cartons of gifts. Garden Post 129, A. L. had huge collections in two sections of its city. Temple Beth El congregation of Providence, R. I., collected a great many men garments, some purchased, many made by hand.

In Falmouth, Mrs. W. Collins of Elm rd., a tireless worker for the Christmas Ship cause from the beginning of the campaign, turned over a truckload of garments. Merchants in Falmouth responded to an advertisement Mrs. Collins published in the local paper at her own expense. Neighbors and friends filled a room in her home with clean, warm clothing.

Methuen Post of the American Legion donated more than 1000 pounds of serviceable clothing, while John F. Root Post 181, of North Reading gave more than 350 pounds.

From the Legionnaires and other organizations in and around Manchester, N. H., 32 cartons of clothing and footwear arrived last night and 20 more were coming in late today, swelling to more than 100 the number of packages received from that city.

Cash donations are still being made, too, despite the fact that none were solicited. Mrs. Victor M. Carpenter of 45 Archer rd., Rockland, sent in a postal money order for clothing to the ship.

The Cape Ann Laundry and Dry Cleaning Co., of Gloucester, which has cooperated with the campaign from the start, had six huge cases of freshly cleaned garments ready this afternoon, donations of residents of Gloucester and Rockport. And still the packages of all sizes, shapes and weights came in hourly, from early morning until late at night.

As a matter of fact, Record-American circulation departs each truck have been picking up donations on a 24-hour-a-day basis this week.

The Record-American Christmas Ship sponsors today express deep gratitude to Manager E. C. Bonway and members of the Motor Truck Club of Mass., Inc., for having given freely of their time and energy in carrying loads of clothing to Boston headquarters from all points.

OFFICES TO CLOSE

Tomorrow evening, Christmas Ship headquarters will have to close its 100 and 72 Summer st. offices to concentrate on the task of packing. Only express or mail shipments will be received up to 9:30 p. m.

But to get that packing done in time for deadline, more workers are needed.

And to get all parcels in to headquarters for these workers, YOUR co-operation is needed TODAY. IF YOU HAVE ANY PACKAGES OR CASES TO BE COLLECTED, PLEASE CALL CHRISTMAS SHIP HEADQUARTERS RIGHT NOW!

GLOUCESTER CONCERN CITED FOR SHIP AIDE

For one of the most efficient and generous instances of co-operation throughout the campaign for a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND, the work of officials and employees of the Cape Ann Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. of Gloucester was especially cited today.

Through the columns of the Record-American, the Christmas Ship committee expresses deep appreciation to this organization and its owners, Robert W. and Irvin Anderson.

Offering its services without charge, this company received and cleansed articles from the people of Gloucester, Rockport and neighboring Cape Ann communities. All donations were carefully listed, packed after cleansing, and then forwarded to Christmas Ship headquarters in sturdy cases, ready for overseas shipment. Lists of garments accompanied the cases.

Included were nearly a thousand items, only a few of which are 52 men's heavy overcoats, 44 men's and women's sweaters, 116 women's coats, 38 boys' jackets and coats, 16 stocking caps, 25 mufflers, 11 woolen blankets and comforters, 54 pairs of shoes, large quantities of babies' wool and flannel garments.

WINTER WORKERS GET PRAISE

High praise for their unstinting labors today is extended to new volunteers who have given of their time to make the Christmas Ship to England a huge success.

Included in their number are Geoffrey Hoskins of Linnaset st., Cambridge; Kathryn Kenny of Commonwealth ave., Allston; Mrs. C. Edward Holland of Mason ter., E. Cambridge; Miss Julia E. Ryan of State st., Peabody; Gladys La Fleur of Tavinier st., South Peabody; Mrs. James P. Murphy of Orchard st., Belmont; and the following three students at Emerson College, Marie Brenden of Flushing, L. I., Evelyn Rice of Bangor, Me., and Audrey Prentice of Hempstead, L. I.

Others who have done their share to bring aid to stricken families in England include the Webster Shoe Co. of Webster, Smith, Miller and Hermer Shoe Co. of Salmon Falls, Me., Derman Shoe Co. of Medford, the State Police of the Sherburne Falls barracks, the Sterling Express Co. of Sterling and the Alho Motor Express of Medford.

Shades of '18 For Civilian

Some civilian in England is going to get a Christmas Ship gift of an unworn U. S. Army overcoat, a hand-knitted helmet and sweater, once overseas with an American top sergeant.

These three articles were donated to a CHRISTMAS SHIP FOR ENGLAND by Herbert S. French of Reedsdale rd., Milton, World War veteran and past commander of Milton Post 114, A. I. He never did get around to wearing them and they've been in a cedar chest for 22 years.

FOUND

Many of these contributions were brand new, all were in first-class condition, ready for long months of wear.

Generous residents of Cape Ann, who helped make this outstanding donation possible, also offered to help the Cape Ann Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. defray its expenses, but the company accepted no financial aid. A check one warm-hearted resident, Mrs. Susan Baker of Gloucester, insisted on sending was forwarded to Christmas Ship headquarters.

Nazi Bombings End Schooling For 92,000 Children in London

By CHARLES A. SMITH

International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 11—Once they had homes, parents, brothers and sisters. Once they attended school, played children's games, behaved much as any children of their class behave in New York or any other large city.

That was before Adolf Hitler unleashed his day and night bombers over London, before he rained death and destruction from the skies, day after day, week after week, and month after month. Today they are homeless without their families. Their schools are heaps of rubble, their playgrounds piled with debris or piled high with tangled debris. Many of their playmates are dead, horribly wounded in hospitals or evacuated to some safer spot.

They are the children of the blitz, the young, indirect victims of the most pitiless and sustained air bombing the world has ever known.

WAVE ARMY SEEN

They form only a percentage of the more than a quarter million children of school age still left in London. Yet, because of their large numbers, the effect the horror of the past months has had upon their mental outlook, they present an ever-growing problem to municipal and welfare authorities.

They may be the nucleus of a "homeless war" army which could intensify bombing of the capital, continue throughout this winter, may in a few months from now represent as great a menace as the Moscow war did to the Russian authorities for the first few years following the Bolshevik revolution.

They are the fraction of the child population of London which has taken unlikely to official efforts to help the growing number of youngsters of both sexes who have been unfortunate enough to lose both home and family in bombing raids, who dwell, in the shock of their circumstances, childishly in fear, against authority.

As real comrades, many they have thousands of other boys and girls who, because their schools have been bombed, because their homes have been reduced to a heap of rubble, or because of other wartime circumstances, are without proper parental discipline and school supervision.

100 SCHOOLS DAMAGED

On every hand it is beginning to be realized that after six to eight and three months of war, the educational position in London has seriously deteriorated, that schooling in the blitzed capital is almost impracticable, while London is expected to be bombed 22 days because of the present damage done to educational facilities.

Although many schools in London are still open, many have been damaged, and many have been closed. The damage to the schools is not only physical, but also mental. The children are not only physically damaged, but also mentally. Many have been temporarily damaged, and have been sent home for their own good.

At least 100 schools have been damaged, and many have been closed. The damage to the schools is not only physical, but also mental. The children are not only physically damaged, but also mentally. Many have been temporarily damaged, and have been sent home for their own good.

And the children left in the devastated remaining 50 of the former 100 schools are not only physically damaged, but also mentally. Many have been temporarily damaged, and have been sent home for their own good.

ROAMY STREETS

Children roam the streets, particularly in the East End of London, during hours in which if it were possible they would be receiving schooling. They are not only physically damaged, but also mentally. Many have been temporarily damaged, and have been sent home for their own good.

They are not only physically damaged, but also mentally. Many have been temporarily damaged, and have been sent home for their own good.

SLEEP IN SHELTERS

And inevitably they are housed in shelters. They are dispersed in three shelters to the nearest shelter, to take up positions in the shelters and as they are that members of the family will get shelter from the air in the evening. This is the only way in the past few weeks that they have been able to get shelter from the air in the evening. This is the only way in the past few weeks that they have been able to get shelter from the air in the evening.

There, with their parents, their brothers and sisters, they spend the night in uneasy sleep, breathing air which has no stretch of the imagination could be termed pure, with the concrete chilling them to the bone. Dawn, and the customary sounding of the "all clear," finds them trading, sleep-eyed, pale of face, back to their homes for a quick breakfast and cleanup before going to school.

Under such conditions, it scarcely is surprising that school teachers speak of children falling asleep over their lessons, of lassitude and irritation, of frequent bad temper, of open rebellion sometimes on the part of older children.

It is for all these reasons, and many others that more and more people in prominent positions and more newspapers are taking a comprehensive examination of all children from London, before a situation which steadily is growing worse gets beyond the control of educational and other authorities.

Greeks drive north from Porta Edda (1) to Piqueras as Italian retreat is slowed by Albanian revolt near Chimara with result that Il Duce's army moved troops (2) from Palermo by boat. Meanwhile, Greek Argyroastron drive (3) pushed north toward Tepelini and toward coast road, nearing Klisura (4) in another offensive as Italians fled. Snow and Italian resistance slowed attack (5).

BRITISH SMASH AHEAD

Italian planes have been shot down since the British counter-offensive began.

It appeared that the British were about to recapture Sidi Barrani, which they abandoned last September soon after the initial Italian drive began.

POWERFUL WEDGE

Already the British have driven a powerful wedge between the Libyan troops holding Sidi Barrani and supporting fascist divisions further west.

Dispatches reaching Cairo said the Italian resistance had collapsed on the arid desert front almost as completely as in Greece and Albania.

Reuters (British news agency), in a dispatch from Aden today, said the Addis Ababa-Jibuti railway was believed damaged badly in a Royal Air Force raid on a station near the French Somaliland-Ethiopian frontier.

In London today, military authorities reported the British troops in Egypt now are dealing with "pockets of Italian resistance" around the camps in the Sidi Barrani zone.

PERIL OF COMMUNICATIONS

Although British armored units have smashed through to reach the Mediterranean coast at Benghazi some 35 miles west of Sidi Barrani, there is nothing to confirm reports that two Italian divisions have been cut off, they said.

"We've done lots of damage," an informant said, "and demolition parties will do more to Italian communications such as the coastal road and to Italian bases. But it is too early to say whether a major offensive will be thrust home."

Military circles admitted that the preliminary operations opened a wide field of activities.

At the same time they pointed out that the Italians would be able to use large numbers of tanks in counter-attacks which would relieve Italian forces still fighting at points like Maktila, 15 miles east of Sidi Barrani.

URUGUAY, ARGENTINA GET LOANS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Jose H. Jones, Federal lending administrator, today announced loans of $60,000,000 to Argentina and $7,500,000 to Uruguay.

Both loans, Jones said, superseded smaller commitments made earlier this year, but pursuant to date, Argentina previously had received $20,000,000 credit and Uruguay a $4,000,000 credit, but those two credits were "wiped out" by the new transaction, Jones said.

The new loans, he explained, will be used for general purchase of merchandise in the United States. The Argentine loan also would be in addition to a $50,000,000 currency stabilization credit which Treasury Secretary Morgenthau said recently was being considered by the stabilization fund.

Discussions also are going on, Jones said, with a number of other Latin American countries interested in the $500,000,000 Latin American Loan Fund of the Export-Import Bank, from which the new loans announced today were made. Peru is one of the countries with which discussions are being held, he said, adding that he understood that Peru was considering, if it was financially feasible, the resumption of interest and principal payments on defaulted bonds owned by United States investors.

Britain Admits Grim Food Crisis

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture, declared today that Britain's food situation was "just as grim" as it was during the difficult World War days of 1917.

Hudson told a farmers' club in London that the British navy's task of defeating the German counter-blockade of submarines and long-distance bombers was "now doubly or trebly as difficult" as then.

The government, he added, "is trying to adjust production so as to produce foodstuffs that will keep the people healthy as well as alive."

Envoy Makes Plea For Finnish Relief

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Hjalmar Procope, Finnish minister, made a public plea today for American relief for Finland, which he said was not directly affected by Great Britain's announcement that former President Hoover's plans for shipping food to Nazi-occupied nations would not be allowed to pass through its blockade.

Procope said Finland urgently needed fats, cereals, dried fruit, medical supplies, clothing, shoes and soap and that shipping facilities were available to take the supplies to Finland.

Although he said Finland had encountered difficulty with the British in regard to shipment of supplies, he indicated the principal need at present was money with which to purchase the supplies.

UP TO GERMANY

In ruling out American aid for Europe's hungry, Britain reiterated that the responsibility for feeding conquered countries rested with Germany.

Procope's appeal was in a brief statement he amplified at a press conference. Finland, he said, was out of the scope of the British announcement because it dealt only with German-occupied states.

The minister declared that any supplies sent to Finland would be used solely in that country and that none would fall into the hands of Russians or Germans.

Asked whether Finland would like to have a loan from the United States government, he replied, "certainly," but would not say whether negotiations were now in progress.

CONSIDERED BY U. S.

Secretary Hull said today the question of Finnish relief was being considered along with the whole problem of European relief, and added that this government would continue to explore possibilities of what it might do to relieve human suffering in all parts of the world.

A plainly worded statement issued by Lord Lothian, British ambassador, late yesterday apparently dashed the tentative plans of former President Hoover.

Great Britain, he said, will not permit such shipments to pass the blockade.

N. Y. Editor Happy Nazis Banned Paper

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—"It is more than a pleasure to me to learn, that the German government has banned the New York Enquirer from the Reich," William Griffin, editor and publisher of the Enquirer declared today.

The order was issued by Heinrich Himmler, head of the secret police, in agreement with the Nazi propaganda ministry under a decree for safeguarding the people and the Reich against slander.

"The drastic action taken by the Nazi regime against the New York Enquirer will not in any way weaken my fight against Nazism, Communism and all other subversive forces in the United States," said Griffin.

Speed Urged In Removal of London Children

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Health Minister Malcolm MacDonald has appealed to "the many thousands of London who have not registered their children for withdrawal to safe areas to do so immediately."

"They should certainly not be put off doing so by the short succession of comparatively quiet nights in London," MacDonald said.

Skilled Nazi Group Received by Hitler

BERLIN, Dec. 11 (AP)—Adolf Hitler received a delegation of inventors, scientists and engineers at the Chancellery today and expressed his appreciation of their work in designing German arms.

LONE NAZI BOMBS BRITAIN

LONDON, Dec. 11 (AP)—Some German planes, apparently passing on scouting missions, were reported over England early today and London had a brief pre-dawn alarm the first in more than 46 hours.

The toll of two days and nights, London's longest respite from bombing since early last fall, still was unexplained except by the possibility of bad weather over Nazi air bases on the continent.

Today's communiqué said there was "very little enemy activity during the night and no reports of damage or casualties have been received."

LURIE NAMED HEAD OF PAROLE BOARD

new boxing commissioners, a new parole board chairman and two new labor commissioners.

The governor named to the boxing commission C. Desmond Wadsworth of Brookline, in place of Arthur G. Plant of Worcester, and Samuel O. Smith of Scituate, in place of Peter Carr of Lawrence.

The latter appointee is the popular Sam Smith, member of the governor's military staff who has been much before the public as a wrestling referee. He saw 26 months service in the World War with the 12th of them overseas. Replacement of Robert as state parole board chairman was revealed when the Governor sent in the nomination of J. Robert Ayers of Weston, who is only 28, to succeed him.

COUNCIL O. K. AYERS

Although succeeding the chairman, however, Ayers will be only associate commissioner. Chairman Lurie was appointed to succeed P. Emmett Gavin of Boston, who is the probable successor to the position of the Governor to designate to the council.

Ayers' appointment was also immediately confirmed by the council. A 28-year-old man has been serving as assistant secretary to the parole board, was chiefly concerned with pardon and parole matters.

This afternoon the governor announced that Col. Edward D. Sirois of Lawrence, chairman of the Republican State Committee, but a former member of the governor's staff, has volunteered to fill in at Ayers' post until a successor can be named.

James T. Moriarty was reappointed commissioner of labor and industry and Eugene M. McSweeney was named again to his post of commissioner of public safety.

The Governor appointed Daniel

F. Boyle of Peabody associate commissioner of labor and industry to succeed John L. Campos of Fall River, veteran member whose term in the $4600 post expired.

Former president of the Peabody city council, Boyle has been a prominent CIO labor leader, while Campos formerly was a leading A. F. of L. figure.

To the Department of Public Utilities for the four-year term, at $7000 a year, the Governor named Gilbert W. Cox of Needham. He succeeds Chairman Cotton, except that Cox will be an associate commissioner and not chairman.

Despite reports that Education Commissioner Walter F. Downey desired to return to the Boston school system, the Governor reappointed Downey to the $9000 post.

REP. BOWKER ON MDC

Arthur G. Rotch of Lakeville was reappointed public welfare commissioner and Stephen J. Garity of Lowell was renamed State fire marshal at $4000 annually.

Other appointments and reappointments by the Governor included the following:

Rep. Philip C. Bowker of Brockton to the Metropolitan District Commission, succeeding Austin J. O'Connor of Boston, term expired.

Mrs. J. Verity Smith of Boston, as assistant labor and industries commissioner, succeeding Mary E. McEahan of Boston, term expired.

Dennis H. Haverly of Worcester, as second deputy commissioner of State aid and pensions, a reappointment.

MANY GET PLUMS

Gustave W. Everberg of Woburn, reappointment as state superintendent of buildings.

Eva Whiting White of Boston, to the Board of Immigration and Americanization, a reappointment. Wilfred Chagnon, Newton, to the board of registration in pharmacy, succeeding Augustine J. Lawler, Lawrence, term expired.

William S. Briny, Melrose, suc-

Carl M. F. Peterson, Waban, to the board of examiners of plumbers, succeeding J. Vincent MacDonough of Watertown, term expired.

Frederick A. Dickinson, Boston, to the board of housing, in place of J. Fred Beckett of Fall River, term expired.

BRIEN AGAIN HONORED

Gabriel G. Brien, Framingham, to the board of registration of barbers, succeeding Louis A. Plano of Somerville, term expired.

Dr. Francis T. Spaulding, Cambridge, to the advisory board of the department of education, succeeding Thomas H. Sullivan of Milbury, term expired.

John O'Connell, Pittsfield, as trustee of the Soldiers' Home, vice Richard P. McCarthy, Westfield, whose term expired.

Emil N. Winkler, Brookline, as master in chancery, succeeding Francis J. Murray of Boston, term expired.

Forrest W. Haffermehl of Canton, as trustee of the Norfolk County Agricultural School, succeeding Ira Hamburg, term expired.

David W. Armstrong, Worcester, and Robert Cutler, Boston, to the advisory board of the Public Welfare Dept., reappointments.

Alexander Elin, Boston, to the advisory board of the Department of Education, reappointment.

Vincent C. Stanley, Newton, reappointed as commissioner of Firemen's Relief.

Lethrop Withington, Brookline, as trustee of the Massachusetts Hospital school, a reappointment.

Raymond H. Baxter of Marion, as associate medical examiner in Plymouth County, fourth district, a reappointment.

DR. F. M. EDWARDS' DISCOVERY FOR CONSTIPATION

Benefits Nation of Sufferers!

COLUMBUS, OHIO: For over 20 years Dr. F. M. Edwards (widely known physician) successfully treated scores of patients for constipation and the headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness which often result.

This wise Doctor knew liver bile must flow freely every day into your intestines or fatty foods can't be properly digested and you may become constipated. So he kept this in mind when he perfected his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful, yet they assure gentle, thorough bowel movements and ALSO help stimulate bile flow. Test their goodness TONIGHT! 15¢, 30¢, 60¢.

Teacher Loses Suit for Cash

A verdict of not guilty was returned in Suffolk Superior Court today in the trial of Francis T. O'Neill, of Walcott st., Dorchester, charged by Miss K. Vera Martin, Boston school teacher, of taking money from her and spending it on another woman.

The jury's verdict was arrived at last night and sealed until the opening of court today.

During her association with O'Neill for the past six or seven years, Miss Martin testified, she has given him a total of $5000 upon his promise to invest it in profitable business ventures. She charged that O'Neill, despite his promise to return the money, has not done so.

O'Neill testified the money he received from Miss Martin was a gift, and denied any theft. He said he was in New York with the witness that they occupied separate apartments and she financed the trip with her own money.

HITLER NOW PLANS SUBMARINE A DAY

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND

(Special Wireless Dispatch to the Boston Evening American)

TOKIO, Dec. 11.—Germany is building 20 submarines monthly now, but soon will have 30, or one per day, running "off the belt," according to well-informed sources here.

The highest monthly production of these undersea craft during the World War was 15, but Admiral von Scheer's naval program, adopted a few weeks before the outbreak of that conflict, provided 1375 in 13 months.

Always a strong advocate of the concentration of fighting power to strike one point at a time, but to strike hard, Hitler, it is claimed, has ordered Germany a war industry to concentrate on the production of submarines, planes and additional anti-aircraft guns.

Hitler, it is said by technicians recently arriving from Germany, is opposed to dissipation of his fighting power through scattering it.

He wants it concentrated, both air and sea, on England, which he regards as the "titel of resistance."

These sources point out that Germany has mountains of munitions. Almost none are being consumed, they say, and there is no call for replacements in the enormous parks of artillery, except for some anti-aircraft guns.

In addition these technicians say that, besides its own mines, Germany now has all the iron and manganese in Sweden, French Lorraine, Polish Upper-Silesia and Spain.

This ore, available by railway, it is claimed, controls four-fifths of the iron of Europe.

Sources here in close touch with Berlin doubt that a land offensive will be undertaken during the winter by the Germans in the south-east, unless unforeseen developments make it strategically advisable, as Hitler regards the Mediterranean as Mussolini's big job while he himself hammers and torpedoes England.

Indo-China Combats

Intensifying, Japs Say

TOKYO, Dec. 11 (AP)—A Domei (Japanese news agency) dispatch from Hanoi, French Indo-China, said today hostilities were intensifying along the border of French Indo-China and Thailand (Siam), with considerable aerial activity and artillery action.

French authorities in Hanoi said they reported today to their neighbors for a possible settlement, but were determined to oppose any hostile action.

AN ECONOMIC RACE is on in the United States between inflation and deflation.

The ultimate explosive inflationary consequences of endless Federal deficit financing are conjectural and in the future.

While men ponder about such eventualities, a deflationary influence of great force is operating right under their noses.

THE RISING TAX BURDEN IS DEFLATIONARY.

It tends to tear down incipient prosperity.

It channels off the rewards of expansion into a vast kitty.

As in a poker game, where excessive portions of the winnings of each hand are taken for the kitty, NONE OF THE PLAYERS THUS EXPLOITED REALLY WINS.

In American business, the recent rise in the corporate tax rate and in the excess profit tax impost tends to make business men work as servants of government rather than as agents of their stockholders.

The application of the conditions of new economic bondage is revealed in a current study by the National Industrial Conference Board.

The conference board, in studying 20 companies which made allowance for the Excess Profits Tax, finds that the Federal Government will take 72 cents out of every $1 of increased income before tax in the first nine months of the year.

While net income of these companies in the first nine months climbed to $201,000,000, compared with $176,000,000 in the comparable 1939 period, the combined tax reserves of these enterprises rose to $104,000,000 from $40,000,000.

Rewards are not commensurate with the added risks of the emergency period.

The pretense for the present conduct is the political desire to avoid making war-time millionaires, but in reality this powerful deflation may go further and seriously impair the effectiveness of the American way of life.

WOMEN'S FEET are growing surprisingly, reports Prof. Earnest A. Hooton, distinguished Harvard anthropologist.

To prove his statement, Professor Hooton cites interesting statistics which indicate that it would be a physical impossibility for a modern college girl to get her foot into the shoe her mother wore thirty years ago.

This is probably true.

Girls of today are more active than girls of the gas-light era.

However, we have a strong suspicion that feminine feet are very much the same as they always were.

The change, we are inclined to believe, concerns the women themselves rather than their walking apparatus.

Miss or Mrs. 1940 is more courageous than was her fashion-conscious ancestor.

If she has a size-seven foot she unhesitatingly buys a size-seven shoe.

Unlike the Gay Nineties girl, who was willing to endure agony for style's sake, Miss or Mrs. 1940 would not think of limping and hobbling in size three.

Of course our enterprising American shoe industry deserves a liberal share of the credit.

Thanks to the ingenuity of designers and the skill of craftsmen, a big shoe can now be as attractive as a little one.

In fact, it is very difficult to guess accurately the length or width of any woman's foot.

Consequently the up-to-date wife who suffers embarrassment because her oxfords or slippers are as big as her husband's is needlessly borrowing trouble.

Nobody will suspect the "terrible truth" unless she herself reveals it.

On The Side

GUS EDWARDS, the veteran vaudevillian, recently celebrated his 35th wedding anniversary. Divorce is rare and long marriages are common among people once associated with vaudeville. But I don't know why. What profession or trade, excepting film performers, has the most divorces and shortest marriages? ... Ah Wing Dong is an unusual figure in the world of sport. He is a Chinese heavyweight boxer. Most colorful leather pusher I ever saw was Battling Siki. "The Singular Senegalese." In the World War, Siki won more decorations for bravery than any participant. As a boxer he fought Mike McTigue in Dublin ... Hedy LaMarr recently expressed her opinion of American men and said many of them were "spoiled" and "didn't like to shave."

ARTHUR SCHWARTZ, the composer, was responsible for music of innumerable hits including: "Give Me Something to Remember You By" and "Dancing in the Dark." In these two songs, which would you say was the greatest factor in their success, the words or the music? ... Geraldine Farrar, former darling of the opera, was born in Melrose. Sid Farrar, her father was a major league ball player and a teammate of Billy Sunday. Geraldine made her operatic debut in "Faust" in Berlin, Germany, in 1901. Her Metropolitan debut was in 1906. She was a film star as far back as 1915, when she appeared in a screen version of "Carmen" ... S. E. Skinner, the auto magnate, hails from Lansing, Mich. Mr. Skinner says he believes business is going to get better and stay good for a long time.

WILL YOU ADMIT Percy Hammond was the most brilliant of Manhattan's Twentieth Century dramatic critics? Anyhow, have just had a nice letter from Percy's former school teacher, Olive Wellington Grace of Cadiz, O. She is mighty proud of Percy. Recalls saying to him: "Percy, why don't you brush your hair; it looks like a hoo hoo's nest in a haw haw tree." Is your old teacher proud of you, sir? One of my teachers said to me in prep school: "Durling, there will be no in-between for you; you will never be average. You will be either a great success or a bum."

IT IS SAID persons under 40 buy 62 per cent of the automobiles, 76 per cent of new homes and 65 per cent of all home equipment. That's why smart business men cultivate a youthful outlook ... Another interesting thing for business men to remember is that 91 per cent of people in this country earn less than $2500 a year.

MY DAY

WASHINGTON, Tuesday—

Yesterday was the first opportunity I have had to get the ladies of the Cabinet together. We had a very pleasant luncheon and discussed our winter obligations. It was generally felt that while there was no reason to do away with all social activities, there were very good reasons why we should curtail some of these functions.

The objective is to gain more time for work which might be helpful, either in our country, or to some such democratic nations as we can still help in other parts of the world.

It was my first opportunity to greet Mrs. Stimson, Mrs. Knox, Mrs. Walker and Mrs. Wickard since their husbands have joined the President's Cabinet. They had all been seeing each other, I am sure, but I have been a gad-about this autumn and am only just settling into the swing of Washington life again.

IN THE AFTERNOON I had my first musical of the season. The East Room was filled with guests and we enjoyed the pianist Mr. Mieczyslaw Munz, and the singing of Miss Virginia Lewis. Miss Lewis was discovered in Philadelphia a few years ago; a little colored, orphan girl who had been a domestic servant.

WPA gave her her first chance to obtain some training for her voice. Kind friends have helped her. She sang a program of Italian, German and English songs and was well received and enjoyed by her entire audience.

In the evening, I went over to the Chamber of Commerce building to attend a local housing meeting. The hall was very full, showing how much the interest in the question of housing has grown in this city.

The interest today is not only in the effort to wipe out the slums, but in defense housing, for we realize that we cannot augment our workers in any line without at the same time increasing our capacity for housing them.

The same condition is confronting many other communities.

THIS MORNING, at Congressman Tolen's request, I appeared before the congressional committee studying the question of migratory workers. I listened with interest to Mrs. Thomas, a mother of six children, who testified on their travels during the past few years in search of work.

Five of her children were there with her, and a finer family you could not ask to see.

It seems cruel that these children should not have the advantages so many more fortunate children can enjoy. I often wish that when we see young people who are unable to profit by their advantages, we could switch them over and give the chance to others who would undoubtedly use every opportunity to great profit.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11—TOM DEWEY: U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill, who has been matching your prosecutions, will resign shortly. Cahill, who once was associated with Tommy Corcoran in the practice of law, has made plans to return to private practice. . . HARVEY FIRESTONE: The Priorities Committee of the National Defense Council, which is requesting priorities for machine tools and steel, will follow with a limitation on the sale of neoprene—artificial rubber. . . WILLIAM F. GREEN: John L. Lewis' counsel, Lee Pressman, is going to lose the CIO as a client. . . CORDELL HULL: France's former Premier, Chautemps, who refused to be interviewed when he arrived in this country last week visited the Copacabana Saturday night—and confessed that it was the first time he ever had been in a night club. Harry Pilcer introduced Pancho, the band leader, to him, and Pancho asked him about the fate of Europe. "France was defeated—and that was a terrible thing," said Chautemps, "but that will be mild compared to the terrible things which are going to happen soon in Italy". . . CHAIRMAN JAMES L. FLY: Senator Mead wants to recommend Louis Ruppel for the commissionership in your Communications Commission. Ruppel, now publicity director for CBS, is rated one of the most efficient men in radio.

LOUIS NIZER: Here's one you should have included in your book, "Thinking on Your Feet!" Maurice Evans was called upon to speak at the Algonquin's meeting for British relief. He said: "When a man makes a speech, there are usually four speeches. (1) The speech he plans to make, with all the proper quotations he feels which should be included. (2) The speech he actually makes, which is dull. (3) The speech he might have made, which he remembers after it's over and he's on his way home. And (4) the speech as it is quoted next day. . . DORIS DUKE: George Jessel, in recounting the great romances of Manhattan, said of one: "That was the greatest romance since the days of Cromwell—and by Cromwell I don't mean Oliver. I mean Jimmy". . . KAY KYSER: Peter Lorre, who appeared in your movie, "That's Right, You're Wrong," finally saw it. He said about one of the newer actresses in it, "She's so young, so beautiful—and already so untalented."

ASCAP: Irving Berlin went to Florida and returned with a deep, heavy sun tan. He went to the Friars' Club to meet some of his colleagues. . . Harry Ruby, the song writer, took one look at the tanned Berlin and shouted: "Hey, fellas—this is the little colored boy who writes Berlin's songs". . . HARRY BRIDGES: That 2,500-page report about you which J. Edgar Hoover submitted to the Attorney-General is replete with affidavits and legal evidence to support the statements—entirely different from the wild and unsupported rumors which were used in your trial of last year. . . RUSSELL CROUSE: Last week a fireman came backstage at "Life With Father" and told your partner Howard Lindsay: "There's a good friend of mine outside who'd like to meet you. May I bring him in?" Lindsay agreed, and the fireman presented his friend, Newbold Morris, President of the City Council. . . MILLS NOVELTY CO.: Henry Youngman is displaying an unusual birthmark—three Liberty Bells on his chest. He says his mother was frightened by a jackpot.

NATIONAL UNITY COMMITTEE: Justice Felix Frankfurter, who divested himself of all political entanglements after his elevation to the bench, went to a Washington party shortly after the election results had been announced. A noted anti-New Deal publisher had been invited, but was late in arriving. . . Frankfurter turned to the New Deal guests present—the Dean Achesons and the Archibald MacLeishes—and admonished them against engaging in any arguments with the publisher. Frankfurter stressed to them the importance of achieving unity and assured them that this was the time to begin. . . Then the publisher walked in and shouted. . . "Well, I hope he keeps his campaign promises better than he did those he made in '32". . . "Is that so?" shouted Mr. Justice Frankfurter, beginning a lengthy tirade, "well, let me tell you. . ."

"UNCLE" MIKE JACOBS got a double-dose of extra-curricular acting by a Jacobs meal-ticket last night. . . The successor to Tex Rickard saw Max Baer go through his paces at the Colonial Theater. . . Then he held a ringside seat at the Mayfair while Maxie added to the amazement of the "Baer Is An Actor Cult."

MANY MEMBERS OF THE "Baer Is An Actor Cult"—a fast-growing circle which includes this department among the charter members—were present while the bulky pugilist uncorked a change of pace. . . In "Hi Ya, Gentlemen," the show in which Maxie acts, The Bear merely recites the lines put in his grinning mouth by a group of authors. . . At the Mayfair, he was making his own lines.

"PRETTY FAST, WUN' it?" Maxie asked once after he had gotten off a pun that drew a laugh. . . "Pretty fast for a slap-happy fighter, that is!"—he modestly qualified his boast for Maxie. . . "Uncle" Mike was amused mightily. . . He has seen Baer act when fortunes for Jacobs were at stake, and frequently Maxie had acted badly. . . Nothing was at stake this early morning. . . "Uncle" Mike was relaxed.

YOU MIGHT REGARD MR. JACOBS' presence at the Mayfair's ringside as a case of a "busman's holiday," he, Mike, having been around a ringside the better part of his mature life. . . But this feeble comparison, of course, is taking advantage of a play on words, and the erstwhile high tariff which has caused front tables at nightclubs to be called "the ringside."

MUCH STRANGER than "Uncle" Mike's choice of a diversissement while in Boston in aid of the impending Louis-McCoy fight is the incredible story of Hoot Gibson's visit to Boston and the reason thereof. . . The good, grey Hoot has been a major box-office attraction of the root-a-toot, hard-ridin', me-and-muh-hoss variety since Mary Pickford was Hollywood's First Lady, and an invitation to dine at "Pickfair" was a command performance.

HOOT AND HIS HORSE have been beset by all the dangers possible in the real-life of a western hero of the hills and sage. . . Together they have ebbed from rattlesnakes coiled for the kill, have shook off catamounts and panthers, have nisteppeped the charge of a grizzly and evaded the stampeding herds (including buffalo). . . So what, do you imagine, brought Hoot—minus his boss—to Boston? In his own words:

"WHAT I REALLY came to see was the Hickory Log Wild Animal Farm—in Georgetown. . . Charlie Phelan is one of my best friends, and it's his farm". . . If anyone can top this for a prime example of a "busman's holiday"—we'll start a contest. . . Hoot, who has practically bunked with the creatures of the wild, comes to Boston to visit a wild-animal farm!

ONCE OVER LIGHTLY: NOT since Gene Autrey and Joe E. Brown were clustered under the same nightclub roof the same night, has such a prize and variegated crew of celebrities been within stalking distance of the autograph hounds as the assortment entertained at the Mayfair. . . Besides Messrs. Jacobs, Baer and Gibson, Sid Silvers, Ella Logan, Eric Rhodes, Jane Kean, Dorothy

MAXIE BAER, ELLA LOGAN, HOOT GIBSON

Stone, Charles Collins, Rip Valenti were also present. . . To make it perfect, the ethereal Jane Cowl should have stepped in on her way home.

IN THE OPINION of this corner, Miss Cowl deserves a trophy from Actor's Equity Association—for contributing so notably to the legend that stars of the stage are marvellous creatures who positively radiate allure and glamor. . . Miss Cowl is being helped to get through a day which includes a splendid performance in "Old Acquaintance" (we hear) by the ministrations of five servants. . . These include a masseuse, a No. 1 maid, a chef and a chauffeur. . . That's the way stars were wont to travel in the days of Belasco and Ziegfeld. . . A bow to Miss Cowl!

WILL GARBO GET IRENE'S ROLE?

By Louella O. Parsons

Irene Dunne

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 11—If MGM can be persuaded to lend Garbo to Warners she will be starred in "Mr. Skeffington." Ever since Greta had the best seller by Elizabeth she has made no secret that she would like to play the amazing Mrs. Skeffington, but of course Metro have never been willing to let their Swedish favorite go to Warners or any other studio. But so far they haven't found a vehicle for Garbo, whose greatest market heretofore has been in Europe. So it's possible that the MGM powers that be may relent—especially if Warners will make a deal with Errol Flynn, James Cagney, Bette Davis or one of their top-notch stars.

Irene Dunne, who was to have played Mrs. Skeffington is tied up on other pictures and Warners are finding it impossible to wait for her. John Huston wrote the script and David Lewis, the producer, tells me that Hal Wallis feels it's the finest scenario since "Dark Victory."

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD: James McGuinness, well known MGM writer, and Baroness Lucine von Lederer were married five days ago. They'll honeymoon in New York; Carole Lombard and Clark Gable came home from their duck-hunting expedition sick with the flu; everyone says Roland Young and Biff Cobb (Irvin Cobb's daughter) are going to wed—but try to get either one of them to admit it.

ALVA JOHNSON, who is in town, will write the story of David Seizmek for one of the current magazines. He will do a good job too; Joe Di Maggio has had an offer to make a movie but he won't say with what studio, saw Kay Francis last night and she looks wonderful with her Honolulu tan. Speaking of Honolulu, Helen Chandler is back from the tropical isles, well again and ready to start a new movie career.

JOAN CRAWFORD

WONDER WHY Joan Crawford is so secretive about the date of her arrival in town. Talked with her in New York and she had expected to come home sooner; Gracie Allen and Vera Vague in a contest for eccentric hats at the Brown Derby.

DAVE ROSE, out for the first time since he had the flu, stepping out with Judy Garland. Dorothy Lamour spent her birthday, today, at the bedside of her mother, who is sick in the hospital with the flu.

THE PRESS PREVIEWS are becoming more and more of a headache to the studios, who find it impossible to take care of all the reporters for Hollywood and at the same time obtain seats for Hollywood's insiders who sometimes demand as many as twenty tickets for their dinner guests, so a big movement is afoot to abolish the previews in the theaters. Pictures will be shown in the studio projection rooms to reviewers only.

Personally I think it is a good thing, for the previews can then be held in the afternoon and there won't be such a rush to make final editions. The theaters will also get a better break, for often many of the local customers have seen the movies at previews.

BILL HOLDEN has his shoulder up and he has issued an ultimatum to Columbia—that if his salary dispute isn't settled by the time Columbia starts "Texas" he will be conspicuous by his absence. Bill doesn't care whether he continues his movie career or not because he can go into business with his father and make just as much money as his present salary.

LITTLE DICKEY MOORE, who was just a babe in arms a few years ago, is growing up—and how! Yesterday Dickey, who is now 15, was sharing a closeup with Eddie Albert for "Stuff of Heroes" when the cameraman spoke up and said the scene was ruined. "That peach-fuzz on Dickey's upper lip looks bad," he said.

Pronto they rushed the youngster over to the Warner studio barber shop and gave him his first shave—and now he's the proudest kid on the Warner lot. From now on Dickey says he wants to play nothing but Jimmy Cagney roles.

Smart Set Functions

By BETTY ALDEN

NAT SALTONSTALL is king of Boston's waltzers . . . Like his cousin, Leverett of the Clan Saltontall, he won the balloting of the judges, but no recount was necessary . . . Last night the judges at the second of the winter series of Waltz Nights in the Louis XIV Ballroom of the Hotel Somerset cast their expert eyes on the gracefully gliding and swaying ladies and gentlemen to pick the champion couple out of the swirl of dress coat-tails and billowy skirts . . . After eliminations and deliberations they awarded the palm (and the prize quart of champagne) to Miss Mary Otis and Nathaniel Saltontall . . . Mr. and Mrs. E. Souler Welch, whose waltzing parties at their Louisburg Square home are one of the picturesque traditions of Beacon Hill, acted as judges with Miss Dorothy Cish and Louis Calhern from the show "Life With Father" . . .

Runners up in the contest included Nancy Scott, Sterling Foote, Dorothy Comstock, Hubert Ripley, Mrs. Warren Lothrop, Eleanor Shaw, Mrs. Basil Gavin, Hamilton Warren and Mrs. Guido Perera . . . The latter wore a perfect waltzing gown . . . a full skirted black taffeta model with tiny pink taffeta ruffles outlining the deep U of the neckline and the cuffs . . .

CAUGHT UNAWARES by the photographer as they indulged in a friendly chat at a recent luncheon were Mrs. Edward Brooks Fenno and Mrs. William Thaw Whitney, both of Milton. Both are recent brides and thaw neighbors at Falmouth.

Hub Socialites Scurry South

The early arrival of King Winter has sent many socialites scurrying South ahead of schedule this year. The pre-holiday season at Nassau is in full swing and many winter residents have opened their homes at Miami Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wadsworth of Boston are at Governor's Harbor, Nassau, for the season. Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Blood of Swampscott have been enjoying interesting tips through the Bahamas looking for a suitable site to build a winter home. Mrs. A. W. Erickson of Swampscott has opened her residence on East Hill st., Nassau.

Among the many English people staying at Nassau "for the duration" are Mrs. Seymour Dunn of Wimbledon with her three children; Mrs. Armitage Ogden of London and Ceylon; Lady Bowles and her mother, Mrs. Parib; Lady Roydon of London; Captain and Mrs. E. B. Meade of Northampton, England; Mrs. Godfrey Bond of London, and son, Julian, who are sharing a house with Mrs. Bernard Goldstone of Worthing, Sussex. Mrs. Bond is better known in England by her stage name, Davis Edwards, and Mrs. Goldstone is known at home as Dr. Joyce Mulvaney.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie of Boston and Chicago are at the Nassau Villa for the season.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Crafty of Newton are returning this week-end from a sojourn at Miami Beach. Monday evening they entertained at dinner at the Farnham Hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bagley, who have a new home in Miami, and for Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dunk, formerly of Salem.

Christmas Sale

Authors Will Sign Books

Just the thing to help young brides with practical problems of their first Christmas entertaining will be the demonstration of turkey carving and cake decorating, special features of the Christmas Sale to be held at the Women's Educational and Industrial Union beginning Thursday.

Mrs. B. Preston Cutler is general chairman of the three-day affair which is to benefit the Union's consignors. Many of the lovely gifts are the handwork of people whom the Union helps, and though most of them are essentially feminine gifts there will be toys and children's clothes as well as gifts for men, home made jams and pickles.

Several well-known Boston authors will visit the sale to autograph copies of their latest books. Among them Eleanor Early, Mary Frances Doner, Helen Clark Fernald and Dr. Max Barsis who will autograph his newest skiing books on Saturday morning.

Mrs. Horatio Alden, Mrs. Paul Dudley Dean, Mrs. George Dutton, Miss Anne Alden, Mrs. Robert E. Greenwood, Mrs. Lawrence E. Lunt, Mrs. Paul J. Seales, Mrs. Jeane Smith, Mrs. Charles F. Sprague, Miss Patricia Phillips, Miss Anna B. Stevens and Mrs. Frank Aborn are serving on the committee.

Other workers include Mrs. Livingston Davis, Miss Louise Condit, Mrs. Sewall Cabot, Mrs. Arthur P. Irving, Mrs. C. Clark Macomber, Miss Marion Niles, Mrs. Homer B. Richardson, Mrs. B. Dean Snow, Mrs. William S. Forbes, Mrs. Albert C. Burrage Jr., Miss Eleanor W. Allen and Miss Emma Alden.

Tea at Club Opens Season

Mrs. S. Kennedy Tully, chairman of the ladies' squash racquets committee of the University Club, sponsored a tea at the club this past week-end to launch the new season of competition.

Among the guests were Mrs. Philip Fowler, Mrs. Charles Dunker, Miss Esther McCarthy and Miss Alice Manning of Brookline, Mrs. E. Hawkins, Miss Harriet Dane, Mrs. Harold DeVos and Mrs. Robert Hurley of Newton, Mrs. Seth Robinson, Mrs. Jay Simpson and Miss Katherine Shea of Cambridge.

Mrs. Tully was assisted at the tea tables by the Misses Peggy Kay and Virginia Shinnich of Winchester and Mrs. Robert Mullenwory of Brookline.

Society Notes

Mr. and Mrs. John Burr Potter of Wellesley Hills are spending a few days at the Waldorf Astoria in New York.

Mrs. Nathaniel T. Worthen, chairman of the hospitality committee for the National figure skating competitions, is busy with plans for entertaining visiting skating stars from all over the U. S. A. The Nationals will be held at the Skating Club of Boston the end of January.

In the meantime many promising young skaters are perfecting their curves and spirals in daily practise at the club and every Sunday afternoon they put on an informal demonstration of their prowess at the club teas.

This week's tea hostesses will include Mrs. Worthen, Mrs. H. W. Dwight Radd, Mrs. Philip M. Clark, Mrs. Doris Hill Webster, Mrs. Katherine Newbold and Mrs. Lawrence Hansel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Witt Varren, Jr.'s, special Christmas present is an infant son born yesterday morning at Phillips House. The baby will be christened Bentley W. Varren, 3d, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Bentley Warren of Beacon st. and "Stonehill," Wiliamstown.

Keep Down Your Weight

By MARTHA LEE
THERE ARE sound reasons for keeping adult poundage down to maximum levels, and it is even more important as a health measure than as a contribution to good looks. The way to preserve youthful lives is not to be purchased in pills or found in violent exercise. It's a matter of intelligent food selection, and no food surpasses fresh eggs in providing ideal nutrition in every form.

Eggs contain most of the important vitamins—A, B, D and G—mineral salts, fat which is easily assimilated, protein, and with all this have a flavor which makes for good eating. They are low in calories.

Because of these various reasons, and also because so much hearty food is eaten through the holiday season, a good one-dish casserole meal should be found very helpful.

TUNA FISH AND FRESH EGG CASSEROLE

1 7-ounce can tuna fish
1 tsp. lemon juice
4 sliced, shelled hard-cooked fresh eggs
1/2 cup cooked peas
2 tsp. butter
2 tsp. flour
1 cup milk
1/4 tsp. salt
Few grains pepper
1/4 cup grated American cheese
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire-type sauce
1/2 cup fresh bread crumbs
Drain oil from fish and flake it. Add lemon juice. Arrange fish, eggs and peas in casserole. Melt butter in top of a double boiler, add flour and blend. Add milk, seasonings, and cheese and cook over boiling water, stirring constantly until thick. Pour over mixture and top with bread crumbs. Bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) until thoroughly heated, and crumbs are brown.

SHRIMP OMELET

6 eggs
2 tsp. hot water
1 tsp. baking powder
1 can shrimp
4 tsp. lemon juice
1/2 tsp. paprika
Separate eggs, beat whites until stiff and yolks until creamy. Add hot water and baking powder to yolks. Fold in whites. Pour into a heated omelet pan which has been greased with melted butter, and cook slowly. When done, cross through the center and cover half with the shrimps which have been drained, minced and seasoned with lemon juice and paprika. Fold top half over lower half and serve immediately.

HERB OMELET

4 eggs, separated
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 cup hot water, or milk
1/2 tsp. sage
1/2 tsp. marjoram
1/2 tsp. thyme
1 tsp. butter
Beat the egg whites with salt. Beat yolks with hot water or milk until thick. Add herbs and fold in whites. Melt butter in a skillet or an omelet pan; pour in omelet and cook over low heat for 10 to 12 minutes, when it will be light and fluffy, and golden brown on the bottom. Cut, fold over and serve, garnished with a sprig of fresh parsley.

For Quick Cough Relief, Mix This at Home

Saves You Much Money, and It's So Easily Mixed.

Here's an old home remedy your mother probably used, but, for real results, it is still one of the most effective and dependable for coughs, colds and croup. Once tried, you'll swear by it. It's no trouble. Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar in 1 cup water a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed—a child could do it. Now put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. This makes a full pint of truly splendid cough medicine, and gives you about

LISTEN, WORLD! By Elsie Robinson

DO YOU THINK the "old American spirit" has passed away? And perhaps you believe that Conscription is a dirty deal to Young America? Then get an eyeful of the following.

It's another of those Columnist-For-a-Day letters, with one of those same daffed lads, CARL E. ANDERSEN of Chicago, speaking for himself and his mixer. And if it doesn't fill you with a new thrill and hope you'd better consult a liver specialist.

DEAR ELISIE:—
"I've been reading all these kinks about Conscription and how we draftees are supposed to be cursing our fate. And I suppose I could shed a few tears over myself, too—if I were that kind of a guy. But I'm not, and I've met mighty few who are.
"Here I am, a young fellow of 22, with a sweetheart and a good job with a grand future. Comes the draft! All I and and kicking because I have to leave all this to serve my country for a year? Decidedly not! You don't get something for nothing in this world.
"Yet I've been living all my life, enjoying the freedom and happiness that only Americans know, without paying anything for the privilege. And, believe me, I know what 'freedom' means, for I had a good look at Europe in 1938, and anyone who wants to trade America for Europe can have it.

"SO WHAT? SO I'M NOT ONLY WILLING TO PAY FOR MY PRIVILEGES BUT I'M PROUD TO HAVE THE CHANCE!"

"What's more—no one has scared me into this attitude. I don't believe for one minute that America can ever be conquered. So long as there are Americans, there will always be an America."

"But we have put it face facts and use sense. Certainly we are in for a fight. That isn't pleasant to think about. But when have young Americans ever held back because there was unpleasantness? And when have they ever been licked? Never!"

"Shortly after the Selective Service Bill came up, I signed with the National Guard. If I had any doubt about the spirit of American youth before it was dispelled that night. Every fellow there was on fire to help his country."

"Maybe we fellows don't talk as much as we might about patriotism. Maybe we act hard-boiled about it. But if you could look deep into our hearts you would see just one thing—one steady flame of love for our America!"

"And for these guys who are crying in their beer—there's just one cure for them, as I see it. And that's a swift kick in the pants! Old America may wheeze and wail, but—YOUNG AMERICA IS ON THE JOB! AND RARIN' TO GO WHEREVER THE OLD FLAG LEADS!"

"CARL E. ANDERSEN, 937 N. Parkside ave., Chicago, Ill."

AND THERE, sis I, in a two-lined proof of why America never has been and never will be licked! Good luck, Soldier, and to the sweetest, family and boss who are backing you.

You Can Be Beautiful

Pat-a-Cake Bath Mitts

By ARLINE GOULD

ALL THAT business about luring the world to your door by offering a worth-while invention applies to some unusual bath mitts we've discovered... fat, soft, pat-a-cake mitts crammed with body sacht instead of regular bath powder... and nicely packaged in a cellophane-window box... they're disappearing from a shop counter fast! It's easily understood, for they're such a marvelous value—at 69 cents!

Body sacht is just a bit different than fluffy bath powder, because it is more clinging. It scents the skin more noticeably and for a longer time, because it has more perfume oil in it... and yet it keeps the absorptive quality of a regular bath powder.

These great mitts are made of white terry cloth with pastel terry backs... they have a large quantity of powder... and a little silken tape, for hanging.

In choosing these mitts for gifts when you don't know exactly the color that will please, choose peach! Peach mitts seem to be the most popular among the shades which include pink, yellow, green and blue. And the body sacht is a dainty, mystifying flower bouquet that everyone seems to love!

Speaking of finds... some hand some Chinese satin lingerie (undergarments) are only 50 cents apiece, all boxed and everything. These are beautifully scented with a "powderless" sacht, so your longings won't be sprinkled, on your allergic nose troubled. All the pastels mentioned above are to be had, in case with terry touches, quills or a bow-tie, and in every color from the like blue, pastels to the violet, lavender, and carnation.

If you send in some enough, the shop featuring these will gladly send out 4 for 15¢... though not under a dollar, so club together your list requirement or those of a friend... for these are finds indeed!

For shopping information, phone Arline Gould, Liberty 4000, week-days except Saturday, or write, care of the Boston American, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

RKO Boston Has New Revue

"Hot Harlem Revue," featuring Jimmie Lunceford and his orchestra is the stage attraction opening at the RKO Boston Theater tomorrow for a four-day engagement.

On the screen the two first-time features are, "Meet The Missus," the latest of the Higgins Family pictures featuring Roscoe Karns, Ruth Dornally and Polly Moran and "The Pride of The Bowery," with Leo Gorcey and Bobby Jordan.

Billed as the "Harlem Express" Lunceford and his orchestra provide the major stage attraction at the RKO Boston, beginning tomorrow, when "Hot Harlem Revue" opens its engagement.

There will be specialties by Wilk Smith of the morning songsters, Joe Thomas on the tenor sax, James Young, co-writer of "Taint What You Do" and Eddie Wilcox at the piano.

Featured acts in this revue include Big Time Crip, famed mooned dancer, with new and original routines; Swan and Lee with their diverting Harlem humor, and the plump and pleasing vocalist, Vera Middleton, will offer a varied program of songs that range from modern swing to the classics.

Other big RKO acts complete the bill.

Presenting a typical American family with the typical families joys and tribulations, "Meet The Missus" has the entire Higgins family up in arms and gathered together to help Grandpa extricate himself from the toils of a d-singing widow, portrayed by Polly Moran.

"Pride of the Bowery" revolves around the struggle of youth to survive among the teeming masses of New York's "derelict parades."

Starting today and continuing through Friday, Washington St. Olympia screen shows "East of the River," with John Garfield, Brenda Marshall and Marjorie Hosenbaw.

'Life With Father' Brings Many Quips From Public

The press department of "Life With Father," the screamlined comedy now in its eleventh week at the Ohio Repertory Theater on Monday, is receiving a liberal education in how to advertise the play from the audiences who mill about the lobby between the acts three full nights.

Joe E. Brown Film Tomorrow

Joe E. Brown, recently seen on a local stage in the late Kopy-Lander play, "Elmer, the Great," comes to Trixie-Lux screen tomorrow with Columbia's comedy, "So You Won't Talk."

In his forthcoming screen appearance, Brown will be seen as a timid book reviewer hiding an infamously complex behind a broad forehead by his girl friend to show it off, he is discovered to be the double of a notorious gunman. The gunman and his pals make the discovery at about the same time, and the resultant complications are said to contribute to some first-rate comedy.

The girl friend is played by Frances Robinson. Others in the cast are Tom Dugan, Vivienne Osborne, Dick Wessel and Bernard Sadovnick.

The co-feature is one of Director Alfred Hitchcock's earlier screen classics, some say his best, "The 39 Steps," co-starring Robert Donat and Madeleine Carroll.

It is apparent that the laugh-provoking powers of "Life With Father" have spread across the continent, as remarks are reported from the audience at the Ohio Repertory Theater, "I was afraid I would never get to see this so I came to see it."

As a therapeutic agent, Father

"I just got out of the infirmary yesterday," one woman remarked, "and now I've gone and laughed myself sick again."

"I was so nervous, I was afraid I would never get to see this so I came to see it."

"Our family is too tame," she stated. "I'm going to turn over a new leaf and see if we can't get a little excitement like Father's."

A young man had apparently just phoned a friend. "But I told him not to let a little thing like a three-alarm fire keep him away from 'Life With Father.'"

At the end of a performance a postcard designed by an anonymous customer contained:

"The main character is a big mouse (like someone I know) whose bark is worse than his bite—your loving Wife." (Was there a Vinnie in the house?)

Betty Fields' Road to Fame Wasn't All a Path of Roses

Betty Fields' determination to be an actress began to bear fruit eight years ago, and a casual observer might sum it up by saying that plums have dropped into her lap ever since.

As a matter of fact it hasn't been that easy. Although her first chance came while she was still in high school, she had hunted the doorway of the nearest stock company until she talked the manager into letting her in as an extra.

Two years of training at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts followed. In 1933, before her graduation, Gilbert Miller sent her to London in his production "She Loves Me Not."

To work her into the cast a debutante the playwright originally had in mind was changed to a substitute, and Miss Field went along to play the part. From the beginning it is obvious that people who should know have believed that Betty Field could act.

Back in America she went through a discouraging period of time—years from agencies, however, pined for fashion photographs, worked hard and waited it was during this period that she held five understudy roles at the same time without ever appearing in a performance.

In 1935, George Abbott offered her a role in "Three Men on a Horse," that marked the turning of the tide. In the next four years Miss Field appeared in six of Mr. Abbott's productions, including "Boy Meets Girl," "Room Service," "What a Life," "The Primrose Path" and "Ring Two."

In the spring of 1939 there was an interlude in Hollywood where a contract with Paramount held her for several months. She appeared in the screen version of "What a Life" with great success, played the role of Curly's wife in "Of Mice and Men," in what might be called exquisite contrast, and then returned to her own studio for "Seventeen" without turning a hair.

"Ring Two" appeared briefly on Broadway in the fall of 1939. It lasted long enough for Elmer Rice to spot Miss Field, however. She was called to his office at the Playwrights' Company and signed almost immediately for one of the leading roles in "Eight to the West," which comes to the Wilbur Theater on Monday, Dec. 23, prior to its Broadway unveiling.

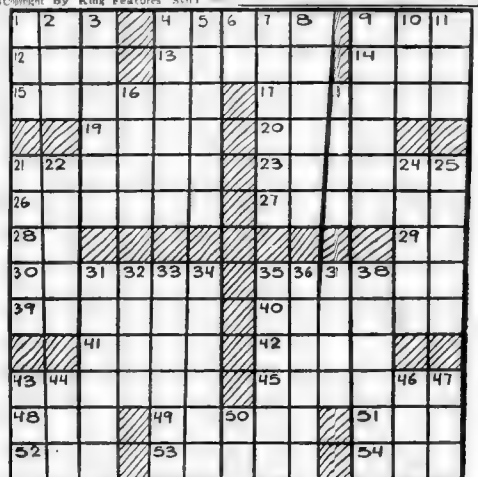

"That Gang of Mine" On Bowdoin Screen

Bowdoin Square's screen is showing through Friday "That Gang of Mine," featuring Bobby Brown and Leo Gorcey in a story with a race-track locale, and "Stranger on the Third Floor," with Peter Lorre, John McGuire, Margaret Tallichet and Charles Woldron.

Townsend Club To Hear Kelly

Mustering the support of old and young alike, the Hecan Hill Townsend Club No. 9, announced today the regular Friday evening meeting this week would be devoted to fostering plans for larger payments to the aged.

Former Lieut. Gov. Francis E. Kelly has been invited as the speaker of the evening.

Atty. Peter T. Dolan, president of the club, pointed out that under amendments of the Federal Social Security Act of 1939, aged Massachusetts citizens should now be receiving $40 a month which, he says, had been woefully denied them.

The meeting is scheduled for 8 p. m. in the clubroom at 62 Chambers st., West End.

You can borrow $100 if you can pay back $6.41 a month

You can get a personal loan of $20 to $300 at Household Finance at rates substantially below the law full maximum—if you can repay in small monthly installments.

Payments to fit your purse

You may choose the most convenient repayment plan from the table below. Suppose that you need $100 and you can readily repay $9.75 a month. Your installments will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.41 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

See the sample loans and the sample payments in the table below. Amounts are in dollars and cents. For other periods of payments in the table repay everything. Household's rate of 2 1/2% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100.

and 2 1/2% per month on that part of balance in excess of $100 is less than the maximum permitted by the Small Loan Law and in the law is the maximum.

Simple to borrow
It requires no salary or wage assignment, no stocks or bonds. Loans are made on furniture, car, your personal note. No credit agencies or friends or relatives. You don't have to ask friends or fellow-workers to sign the papers.

Getting Away With Murder

WHILE CHARLEY O'ROURKE and Chet Gladchuk, Boston College's All-America football stars, were attending classes and looking ahead to the Eagles' Sugar Bowl game with Tennessee they found themselves drafted by the National Professional Football League.

Gladchuk must play for Pittsburgh if he enters professional football, while O'Rourke will be obliged to do business with the Chicago Bears if he decides to join the money chasers.

The draft system as employed by professional football is one of the greatest possible injustices against American amateur athletes. Even baseball, which has frequently been accused of being a monopoly, never attempted to carry on its dealing on draft matters with the high handed methods employed by the professional football magnates.

O'Rourke and Gladchuk at no time were consulted as to whether they would care to play for the Bears or for Pittsburgh. Their names were drawn in a private meeting of the football magnates.

It does not cost a professional club one cent to claim the services of a college player. Once a player's name has been drawn in the draft, he only can do business with the club claiming here.

The draft is ridiculous in more ways than one. It is supposed to favor the weak clubs in the league. As a result, the last place clubs have the first claim on players.

Under this rule the Philadelphia Eagles had the first claim to Tommy Harmon of Michigan, whose services were desired by all of the clubs. By a pre-seasonal deal the Eagles had transferred this valuable right to the wealthy Chicago Bears. As a result Harmon must talk contract with the Bears if he decides to play professional football as well as take part in radio programs.

Harmon has been saying he prefers to be a sports radio commentator to playing professional football.

Frankie Frisch used to declare he would rather remain as a baseball broadcaster to managing a big league ball club, but when the opportunity presented itself Frisch signed a contract to lead the Pirates.

Players Are at Mercy of Clubs

THE FOOTBALL draft system places the unfortunate amateur players at the mercy of the club owners. It isn't possible for a drafted player to talk business with any club other than the one drawing his name.

In baseball an amateur player can talk to a dozen clubs if he wishes and close with the one that offers him the best terms.

College ball players are often given bonuses of as high as $5000 for signing. They are also able to pick clubs to play with which are able to give them the best possible opportunities and liberal salaries.

It is better for a young ball player to join clubs like the Yanks or Red Sox, which pay record salaries, to signing with clubs like the Browns or Athletics which are not so liberal in the matter of salaries.

Hockey Also Has Unfair Draft System

PROFESSIONAL hockey also has a draft system that is unfair to amateur players. A scout for a hockey club can see a high school boy playing hockey at the Arena, and tie up the boy's future by sending a letter to Frank Calder, president of the National Hockey League, claiming the youngster's services.

The scout does not even have to talk with the schoolboy player before placing a mortgage on his future.

These letters are not open to the inspection of other club owners.

This has frequently caused the charge to be made that players were often awarded to clubs which had not even put in a claim for their services.

The draft system as employed by professional football and professional hockey makes the hockey players human chattels to be cast around at will.

I do not believe the American public approves of such high-handed methods. If enough amateur players rebelled against these unfair systems, I know that the lofty gentlemen who operate professional football and professional hockey would at least be compelled to talk terms with young athletes before they are told with what clubs they have to play.

SMITH, DEZ WADSWORTH NAMED TO BOXING BOARD

EVENING AMERICAN, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 11, 1940

Governor Saltonstall today submitted the names of C. Desmond Wadsworth and Samuel O. Smith for the approval of his executive council as members of the Massachusetts Boxing Commission.

Wadsworth was named to succeed Arthur G. Plante whose term has expired. Smith was appointed to succeed the late Peter Carr of Lawrence.

It was thought probable that the council in afternoon session would second the nominations and confirm the appointments today. Otherwise the confirmation will hold over to next week.

Both new commission members are well known in local sports circles.

Wadsworth has been manager of the annual Boston Athletic Assn. Marathon for the past 20 years and was appointed as chairman of the B. A. A. athletic committee in 1934 to succeed William Garcelon when the latter became president.

He graduated from Williams College with the class of 1908 and was rated one of the best second basemen ever developed in New England college baseball.

On his graduation, Hughey Jennings, then manager of the Detroit Tigers, had him all but signed to a big league contract. But Wadsworth's parents objected and he passed up the opportunity.

SMITH MAY REFEREE
He immediately entered the insurance business and has since made a highly successful career of it. He is president of his own concern.

Smith has long been a director of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, has been prominent as a referee of wrestling matches and was named as an unpaid military aide to Governor Saltonstall when the latter was first elected chief executive.

'Quinn to Quit B's'--Lake

By AUSTEN LAKE

Sometime before sundown Monday, the major portion of the Boston Bees' stock will be sold and transferred into the hands of Albert Powell, New Haven executive and former vice president of the Braves.

At the moment, Powell at 100½ Kinesaw Landis' invitation, is in Chicago, to arrange the technical details of the transfer.

In Chicago also is Rob Quinn, current general manager of the Bees property.

Up to the moment, Rob has not been inclined to be part of the new set-up, due partly to the fact that his present contract expires on Jan. 1 and partly because of Powell's opposition to long term contracts.

This writer does not expect that Rob, whose association with Boston baseball dates over a 17-year period, will continue with the new Bees deal.

In fact, it is reported that he has already under consideration another major league offer, the nature of which has not been revealed.

After taking over the Adams' interest in the Bees property, amounting roughly to three-quarters of the voting stock, Powell, team owner, says, "I, as the writer, said he proposed to build a night-lighting system at Fenwick immediately and play the limit of night ball games allowed by league law."

Dr. Shell Dies at 78; Ace Athlete in '80's

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 11 (AP)—

Dr. J. Kinzer Shell, 78, famed athlete, coach and trainer, was dead here today after a short illness.

Holder of both the national midweight wrestling and boxing titles in respective years, 1888 and 1889, Dr. Kinzer also starred in track and field events, lacrosse, golf and cricket.

He studied his coaching career at University of Virginia in 1887. He was at Swarthmore from 1888 until 1888 and then served at University of Illinois for three years before returning to University of Pennsylvania, his alma mater.

McCoy Opens Hub Workouts

Joe Louis will speed up on his boxing and increase the power of his punches in the next few days as he trains at Johnny Huckleby's gym on Friend st. for his 15-round world's heavyweight championship bout with Al McCoy at the Garden on next Monday night.

Louis is hitting harder and faster today than he was a week ago. It is evident from the way the "Brown Bomber" is belting his sparring partners around in the gym that he will arrive for a quick knock when he engages with McCoy. Louis realizes he will be risking prestige as well as his title Monday night. If McCoy should weather the 15 rounds, even if Louis gets the decision, the champion would lose some of his ring standing. McCoy has been training at Lou Stullman's gym in New York, but has come to Boston to finish work. He is in fine physical condition and is confident he will come through with a startling upset on Monday night. Al was to work this afternoon at Kelley & Hayes gym in Hanover st.

Care of the rifle is of utmost importance to marksmen, and instruction on such care is published by the National Rifle Association in its club book. The book is invaluable to the hundreds of participants in the William Randolph Hearst Citizen's Marksmanship Competition.

For the sake of those entrants in the Hearst Rifle Shoot who have not read the N. R. A. instructions, we reprint the section having to do with the care of the rifle. It follows:

The rifle is a fine piece of mechanism. It must be kept clean, free from rust and well lubricated if it is to do good work and remain in serviceable condition. It is an established fact that polished steel will not rust as easily as steel which is rough, so everything possible must be done to keep the bore smooth, bright and in good condition.

Looking through the bore you will notice it is twisted or spiral in shape. The cut-in portions are termed the grooves, while the outstanding portions are called the lands. These grooves and lands are put in the barrel to give the bullet a direct flight to the target and if they are damaged inaccuracy results.

A rough or rusted barrel causes lead to be cut off from the bullet and to stick in the barrel, and over this the next bullet has to force its way. If the barrel becomes too badly fouled or the lead gets too thick the bullets will not bore through the air properly but will tumble over and over, which causes them to "keyhole" at the target—that is, make a long tear in the paper.

Soph McLaughlin Cracks Eagle Six

Coach John "Snooks" Kelley has decided upon the starting Boston College six which will open the Eagle hockey season Saturday night against Yale at New Haven. With the exception of sophomore Will McLaughlin, at one of the defense posts, Boston College will use a veteran line.

Capt. John Piper and Al Dupont will join the wing posts. Hughie Sharkey, junior from Arlington, will team with McLaughlin, a Stoneham youth, on defense. Hughie Sharkey, junior from Belmont, will play goal.

SPORT-O-GRIMES

Unless Pres. Bob Quinn, Sec. John Quinn and Casey Stengel remain with the Bees with the same authority they've had since affiliating themselves with the club, Al Powell would get a better return for his investment by throwing his money over the fence at the foot of Gaffney st. He'd have the pleasure of seeing it disappear.

A B. C. alumnus attempted to purchase a block of tickets for the Sugar Bowl game with a check drawn against a New Orleans bank. The check is on its way back to the Crescent City. The block of tickets was distributed in lots of twos and fours. Unless the boy mayor purchased the duels for posterity, there'll be fourteen in Maurice J. Tobin's party for the Eagles-Vols game.

It's too late now to make an amendment, but if Frankie Cavello, the Weymouth High quarter-back, isn't on the All South Shore eleven, which the American published today, it'll be just too bad for Jackie Conway, our demon correspondent. During the annual banquet of the Seltate High School football squad, which will be held one week from tonight at Dreamworld, "movies" of the B. C.-Georgetown and the B. C.-Auburn games will be shown, thanks to Head Coach Frank Leahy who will be the guest of honor.

Win Green, trainer-de-luxe of the Bruins, is air-minded, despite the fact that he returned from Chicago today by train. He was in the U. S. Navy, attached to the Balloon Service, during the World War. Then, why didn't he fly with the hockey players? Let him tell you. "There's no need of me getting back to Roxbury that fast." The "Old Master" is never at a loss for an answer.

You can't convince Tom Mulvey that Holy Cross shouldn't have beaten Boston College. But, Tom may be slightly prejudiced. His son Kevin is a sophomore at Mt. St. James and played in the Crusaders' backfield until he was injured.

With such stars as Art Coulter, Alex Shibicky and Dutch Hallat out of action, Frankie Boucher is doing a very creditable job keeping the New York Rangers in the N. H. L. race. In the opinion of hockey experts, the Detroit Red Wings is the most improved club in the Calder circuit.

Freddie Corcoran, tournament manager of the P. G. A., has opened his 1941 finger nail biting season. He's down at Miami, checking in his stars. He'll soon head for the Pacific Coast. Jimmy Demarest is the softest touch among the pro golfers. He practically adopted six pros, who were on the winter circuit last year. He had to win in order that his party might eat at regular intervals. BILL GRIMES.

B. C. Gets Lambert Trophy

Head Coach Frank Leahy's Boston College eleven, crowned eastern Intercollegiate football champions for 1940 by the unanimous vote of 64 leading sports authors, will be awarded the famed Lambert trophy at a special program in New York city tonight.

Very Reverend William J. Murphy, S. J., president of Boston College, will accept the trophy. Part of the program of presentation will be broadcast on a nation-wide radio hookup from Shore's New York Restaurant at 11 o'clock tonight.

The Lambert trophy, gift of the Lambert Brothers, famous New York jewelers, is annually awarded the East's best football organization for a period of one year.

Weymouth Places 5 on South Shore 'All' Team³⁹

By JACK CONWAY, Jr.

This is the first annual Boston Evening American All-South Shore football team compiled by our South Shore correspondents. This team we believe constitutes the cream of the South Shore football talent.

We deem it a privilege to call attention to the fact that the Weymouth team, George Delorey, Weymouth co-captain, an all-around outstanding tackler, Delorey has led the Weymouth team to an undefeated season by means of his aggressive tackling, passing, and kicking.

Weymouth, of the South Shore football league, has placed five players on the All-South Shore team. These are: Parker Bates, Guard; Dick Saulnier, Quarterback; Dom Nista, Halfback; George Delorey, Guard; and Bill Pizzi, Tackle.

BATES VERSATILE PLAYER
Parker Bates of Weymouth, previously chosen on many All-Scholastic teams is by far the most versatile of the South Shore line-men. Bates, along with being a vicious tackler and blocker, is quite an accomplished ball carrier. Bates has been featured in the Weymouth attack in this capacity in a tricky end around play.

There was a close race for the right end position, with Milt Cheverie of Braintree posing out Mel Butts of Hanover and Jim Lundin of Abington High. Lundin, along with being a good all-around end, is a proficient placement kicker. Cheverie captains the Braintree contingent and has proved himself an excellent leader throughout the campaign.

Capt. Dick Saulnier of Hingham and Co-Capt. Dom Nista of Weymouth are strongly entrenched at left and right tackles, respectively. Both these stalwarts have played a hard charging brand of football this season and deserve much credit for their respective efforts.

At the guard we find Bill Pizzi of Weymouth on the left side, and Dick Carlson on the right. Pizzi, a running guard, weighing six 142 pounds, is often to be found weaving around the opposition's backfield smearing plays. Carlson, on the other hand, opened many a hole for teammate George MacPhelmy to go scampering through.

POWERFUL BACKFIELD
The backfield is composed of four boys that match in all-around brilliance with any quartet in the state. Sophomore Frank Cavallo, Weymouth High's tackle, was selected handily over his nearest rival, Don Plausse of Whitman High.

Cavallo is Weymouth's high scorer and a great signal caller. In his final appearance of the current campaign, Plausse tore through the Hingham line for three touchdowns and one point after.

Gerald Clougherty of Braintree High and the before mentioned George Delorey share the halfback posts. Clougherty is as hard a running back as any high schoolboy we have seen. Clougherty is a skilled pass receiver as well as doing some of the chucking himself.

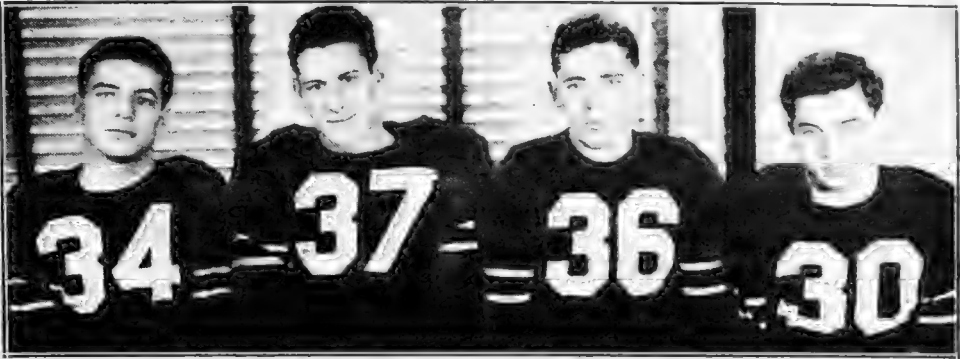

George Delorey has been a consistent ground gainer for Harry Atkinson's Weymouthites and stands out as the ranking back on the South Shore.

Next in order we have a hard driving fullback in Abington's own George MacPhelmy, the bulwark of Charlie Walsh's offense. George is the foremost line buckler on the South Shore, he crashes the middle, runs the ends and in his defensive position of backing up the forward wall it is not out of the ordinary to see George knife through the enemy line to block a punt or to completely discourage any aspirations of a successful running play by his vicious tackles.

WHITNEY IS CLASSY
Last but far from least we come to our utility selections. Co-Captain Jack Whitney of Rockland, just posed up for a first string position by Dick Saulnier, has been an important cog in the attack of Coach Argo Lafanzl and deserves due recognition for his seasons labors.

The utility backfield positions were won by Everett Dorr of Scituate and "Cooky" Dill of Rockland High. Dorr, a rather big boy, is a triple threat star. He sparked Scituate High to six straight wins this past season. Dill is a small, shifty speed demon. It really is a treat to see this little gent sniffing through peanut sized holes in the line and around the enemy defenders in an open field.

That just about ends up the selection of a South Shore All-Star team, until the 1941 season rolls around.

FOUR OF A KIND—All-South Shore team members, from one school, are these four who starred for Weymouth. Left to right are Quarterback Frank Cavallo, Tackle Dom Nista, Halfback George Delorey and Guard Bill Pizzi. Parker Bates, Weymouth end, who was named on the Official American All-

Scholastic team by the coaches' board, missed the above picture. He, too, is on the All-South Shore team, making five boys from one school on an all-star team. The unbeaten and untied Weymouth players earned the honor.

Challdon Best Horse, Reds Top Team in Poll

BALTIMORE, Dec. 11 (AP)—Challdon is still the boss. William L. Brann's big four-year-old bay today was named the "Horse of the Year" for 1940 by the nation's turf experts in the annual turf and sports Digest poll, thus becoming the first galloper to retain that throne in the five-year history of the voting.

"Big Pete" did it by a convincing margin in a year in which the class of competitors in the racing world was decidedly "off." He received 84 nominations from the 172 experts who cast votes, compared with the 34 for Charlie Howard's Seabiscuit, the richest money winner of all time.

Challdon also was chosen first in the handicap division, among the four-year-olds and up. Col. E. R. Bradley's Bimelech, despite his loss in the Kentucky Derby and the hoof injury which forced his retirement in mid season, was named best of the three-year-olds.

In the two other divisions voted on, Crispin Ogilby's Level Best, Equipoise's best daughter, was easily the outstanding two-year-old filly, while the closest contest of all found Warren Wright's Whirlaway leading Royce G. Martin's O'Boots for top billing among the two-year colts.

Here are the way the experts voted the top three in each division, with the ballot points, the year's glitz, news and money earnings for each:

Reds Baseball Triumph Top Team Feat of 1940

The country's sports editors following the precedent they themselves established in eight of nine previous Associated Press polls, today singled out the Cincinnati Reds' capture of the National League pennant and the World Series as the outstanding team performance of the sports year.

Each winter since 1932 the experts have awarded this honor to the current baseball champions, basing their verdict on the season's record and the team's performance. The Reds, who won the pennant and the World Series, were the only team to win both titles in the same year.

The Reds set a record of 62 wins and 26 losses, finishing first in the National League with 121 points in a 162-game season. Their first-place finish was a result of their strong performance in the second half of the season, when they won 31 of their last 45 games.

GOWERS HONORED
The Gowers, last year's winners, were the only team to win the National League pennant and the World Series in the same year. They were the only team to win both titles in the same year.

Third place went to Stanford's Pacific Coast Conference football champions, whose 36 points gave them a slim edge over Texas A. & M.

40 ANGEL TACKLES NUMA

Maurice Tillot, better known as The Angel, will be favored to retain his world's heavyweight wrestling title tonight when he clashes with Leo Numa, skilled Washingtonian, in the main event at the Boston Arena. The match headlines a tournament to be sponsored by the Boston Newspapers' Post, 305, American Legion, and part of the proceeds will be devoted to the Legionnaires' Christmas welfare fund.

The season's largest crowd is expected to be on hand when the big-headed Angel pits his brute strength against Numa's speed and skill. Numa's plan of battle calls for him to move around the ring fast and evade The Angel's bear hug as long as possible.

Brown Favored Over Harvard '5'

Brown's veteran five is favored to down the Harvard basketball team in their annual scrap at the Harvard indoor athletic building this evening with the preliminary frosh game starting at 7 p.m.

Coach Wes Felsner has worked his team hard all week in an effort to find some combination which might be able to break the Bruins' winning streak which dates back to 1937.

Brown's veteran team opened its season with a 41-13 win over Clark University last Saturday and should not encounter too much opposition from the Crimson.

Harmon to Play For AL or No One, Says Yank Head

NEW YORK, Dec. 11 (AP)—Tom Harmon, Michigan's two-time All-America halfback, went into a huddle with a New York radio executive today, but Harmon said the one thing they did not discuss was an announcing job for him.

Harmon said he called on Donald Flamm, president of Station WMCA, merely to get "advice on a career" from a man whom he admires.

Tommy said he wouldn't consider doing any commercial work until after his graduation next June. As to playing pro football, he still is undecided.

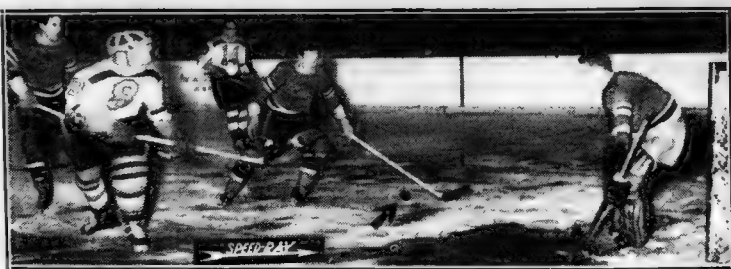

"I'll do it only if what I want in radio doesn't work out," he said. Present at the meeting was Douglas G. Hertz, new owner of the New York Yankees of the American Football League.

Hertz announced that Harmon would play for the Yankees if he plays pro football at all, despite the fact Harmon was "drafted" by the Chicago Bears of the National League.

FIGHT TALK ROUSES BRUINS TO DRUB RANGERS AT GARDEN

By BILL GRIMES

Before 12,000 fans, the largest crowd of the season, the Bruins slapped a 6 to 2 defeat on the New York Rangers, holders of the Stanley Cup, at the Garden.

Dissatisfied at the article of hockey the Bruins have been playing this season, Manager Art Ross gave the players a thorough going over before they took the ice. Judging from the improvement shown by his lineings, Ross must have threatened to send the delinquents to Hershey.

CAIN'S NOSE BROKEN

The Bruins scored twice in each period and Frankie Brimsek had the Rangers shut out until 13:18 in the final period. Bill Cowley, the leader for scoring honors in the N. H. L., picked up two assists as did Capt. Dit Clapper, while Milt Schmidt scored two goals and assisted on the one made by Bobby Bauer. Eddie Wiseman, Roy Conacher and Dez Smith accounted for the other Bruin tallies. After piling up a six-goal lead, the Bruins defense buckled late in the third period and the Rangers popped in two markers on Frankie Brimsek, who played one of his greatest games.

In the second period, Kerbie Cain was conked on the nose by Kilby MacDonald.

The Patrick brothers Lynn and Murray were the Rangers casualties. Lynn was ripped for a stitch by ex Smith on the first Ranger attack of the game and received two stitches over his eye. Late in the game Murray was nicked on the chin and later was cut on the nose. It required two stitches to close the wounds.

PLAY GETS ROUGH

At 12:16 in the third period, Jack Crawford and Neil Colville crashed the boards on the Ranger side of the playing surface. After a couple of pushes, Crawford and Colville went into real action. They cut loose with jabs and hooks.

Colville was finally dropped for a short count and before he could get back into action Linesman Ag Smith and Referee Bill Stewart had taken over. Crawford and Colville drew major penalties for the added attraction.

The Russians carried the play to the Rangers from the opening face off.

Just before the clock showed that four minutes had lapsed, the Cowley line replaced the Krauts. Roy Conacher and Eddie Wiseman attacked immediately with the former taking a pass deep in the New Yorker's zone and cutting across the mouth of the net, but his shot failed to dent the strings.

During the first minute after the change of lines Phil Watson covered Bill Cowley so close that the Bruins star was unable to get possession of the puck.

Bill Cowley likes his goals and assists. So, just as soon as he discovered what Watson was on the ice for, Bill went into action. He broke away from his check, grabbed the puck and fired but Kerr saved. Cowley picked up the rebound and snapped it out to Eddie Wiseman who batted it into the cage for the first goal.

SCHMIDT SCORES

Five minutes later, Dit Clapper handed Milt Schmidt the puck in front of the Boston net and the clever Kraut centre ice man dribbled through the entire Ranger club and beat Kerr for the second Boston marker.

Within four minutes after the start of the second period, the Bruins had scored two more goals. Bobby Bauer came up with the first one by caging a Clapper rebound and 46 seconds later, Roy Conacher scored on a pass from Cowley.

There was no more scoring until the second minute of the final period when Dit Clapper and Des Smith put on an old fashion on side pass attack and the latter counted.

After the scrap between Jack Crawford and Neil Colville, the Bruin defense cracked slightly and Mac Colville beat Brimsek for the first New York goal and three minutes later, Kilby MacDonald scored on a pass from Alf Pike.

Leahy Nominated As Coach of Year

By BILL GRIMES

Since the close of the regular college football campaigns, it has been open season on nominations.

In all sections of the country, names of players have been placed in nomination for "All" elevens of every description, from that of the Associated Press, which is the most universally accepted selections, to that of the Monday Morning Quarterbacks.

National, state, district and local championship titles have been distributed by popular, and in some cases, unpopular, acclaim to this, that and the other team, after moves had been made, seconded and favorably voted on that all nominations were closed.

"There's still one very important and valuable football award to be voted on by the experts, 'The Coach of the Season.'"

ONE LOSS IN TWO YEARS
Frank Leahy, Boston College? Why not? Who is better qualified?

Frank Leahy possesses all of the necessary qualifications for any committee to render him the number of votes required to win the award. During the two years Leahy has been head coach at Boston college, the Eagles have emerged from the "sticks," so to speak, to the top of the college football ladder. Under Leahy, B. C. has lost only one game in two regular seasons. His 1940 squad was one of four major elevens which went through undefeated and untied.

And, he accomplished these feats, while carrying out his first assignment, that of head coach. His previous experiences had been limited to line coach at Georgetown, Michigan State and Fordham.

Two years ago Leahy was an unsung line coach. His rating in the coaching fraternity was of such a minus quality that he hadn't received credit even for his own creation, Fordham's "Seven Blocks of Granite."

POINTS TO ASSISTANTS

When Leahy's name was submitted to the Boston College Alumni Athletic Board, the members of that august body were astounded. They'd never even heard of him. They thought he must be a myth. And they demanded (as far as it is within their province to demand) to see Leahy in the flesh before they'd vote for or against his appointment as head coach. So in order to appease the board, Leahy made what was in all probability his first personal appearance tour, a secretive trip from New York.

But by the time that he reached the Hub of the Universe, Leahy was sealed, ready for delivery and practically signed to a three-year contract.

Like Dick Harlow of Harvard and Earl Blaik, the Dartmouth mentor, Leahy doesn't cotton to being referred to as a miracle coach. And unquestionably he has grounds for his stand on that matter. But still, somebody has performed a miracle at Boston College during the past two football seasons.

Leahy takes the same attitude as Harlow and Blaik. He gives the credit for the development of the Eagles to his assistants, Ed McKeever, Johnny Druze and Joe McArdle. His contentions are that his aides do all the work and that his job is practically restricted to speaking at alumni gatherings.

PUT B. C. ON GRID MAP

Leahy put Boston College over the top in less than two years. Until he took over at University Heights, few Mid-Westerners were able to differentiate between Boston College and Boston University. In fact as recent as a year ago this very month, a story came out of the Mid-West that Boston University was on its way to Dallas to meet Clemson in the Cotton Bowl. It's a different story today.

From the standpoint of winning football games, Leahy has established an enviable record at B. C. But his value to Boston College doesn't stop there. In the first place, he has been like a father to every member of his two squads. He has taken a personal interest in every boy. And, he was not moved to this practice by any thought that he'd be the gainer in the end. He doubled in brass, building character and football machines. And, he has been an inspiration to his players on the gridiron and has a remarkable influence over them off the playing field.

Under another coach, Boston College might have weathered a perfect season and still "missed the boat" from a publicity angle. As a general rule head coaches are not very affable or communicative during the football season. And on many occasions their integrity is questionable.

WINS FRIENDS FOR B. C.

Leahy has always been approachable at B. C. He is soft spoken and a bit of a pessimist, but honest in every statement he makes. He's still not convinced that he made good as head coach. College. He works over his knees he might have made.

Here's Test of Speed on Skis

A few years ago the Swiss Ski Club of Engadine attempted to determine the greatest speed that could be attained by a man on skis. The expert Swiss skier Chigona was used in the experiment over an electrically timed and very steep ski track. He employed racing skis—longer, wider, and heavier than the regular type. The track was set out on the side of an Alpine peak at an angle of 37 degrees, with five electrical control stations shunted into a 150-meter section. Chigona's average over the whole stretch was 65 miles an hour, but over the steepest section he reached 81.82. TAP.

SKI SCRIBBLINGS BY "TAP" GOODENOUGH

THE SPORT OF SKIING IS HERE TO STAY! Soaring sensationally in the past decade, skiing—which is really 6000 years old—is definitely not a "craze!" It is the greatest form of amateur sport in the world, a sport in which everyone can participate, rather than merely sitting on the sidelines and watching. From Plymouth to Patagonia, skiing has truly become "a way of life."

There are over 3,000,000 skiers in America! And 750,000 of 'em are right here in New England; all of which represents a lot of hickory 'Yes' skiing is a big business. May be the peak has been reached but it is now going along at a consistent gait, ever expanding. . . . Local skiing has received a temporary setback from a blash by Old Man Trow, but northern ski centers still have some cover which will form a much-needed base. Anyway, this pre-season snow we had can be counted as an extra gift from St. Peter. Now let us all pray that the next fleet of snowflakes will cover the slopes until April! "Oh, St. Peter, hear. . .

SKI PORTRAIT
A pioneer of winter sports and skiing! That can be truly said of Roland Peabody, whose official title is "Managing Director of the N. H. Aerial Tramway (Commission)." Known to thousands of skiers, good-natured and unassuming Mr. Peabody was born in Franconia, N. H., under the shadow of the very mountains he loves so well. And that is where his charming wife, Nina, found him.

Roland has been town treasurer and moderator, selectman and treasurer of the Franconia School District. He served a year overseas, but schussed straight back from France to Franconia.

Active in winter sports since 1929, the enterprising and far-sighted Mr. Peabody started the Franconia Ski School, the second one to be organized in the United States. He is an expert skier himself, holding Certificate No. 1 as amateur ski instructor, and he has been head examiner for the U. S. Eastern Amateur Ski Association instructors' tests held on Cannon Mountain. . . .

Roger Peabody, Roland's son, is following in his father's ski tracks! This lad is rapidly becoming one of the best skiers in competition today. Last year he placed second in the New Hampshire Slalom Championships. His dad watches his son's achievements with justifiable joy. . . . The success of the Aerial Tram on Cannon Mountain is due largely to Roland's inspired guidance, interest and hard work. He talks, eats, sleeps and lives "Tramway!" The Ski Patrol which he formed is one of the best this writer has ever seen in action, and the trails are the best cared for and graded. Roland Peabody is making skiing safe and fun for all.

SKI CLUB SNOOPS
There are hundreds of ski clubs, large and small, that have sprung up throughout New England whose seeds were sown by the rapid spread of skiing. Greater Boston alone can boast of nearly 100 such clubs! Here is some exclusive news of a few of these:

The biggest event ever sponsored locally by a ski club will take place on Friday evening, Dec. 20, at the Needham Town Hall! This affair—or feet fest will be known as a Sno-Ball under the auspices of a Needham ski club named "DIE SNOBBERUGERS" (a punning Coffin Cheaters (pleasant thought!)) At this dance will be many exhibitors of ski goods including such well-known stores as Bob Smith's, Sportcraft, and Fillet's, the latter staging a Fashion Show of ski apparel. All are invited, and tickets at $1.00 per couple may be obtained from Rus Gately at Bob Smith's. . . .

Ski clothes should be worn to this Sno-Ball. A King and Queen will be chosen during the night, the judges being these famous ski teachers, Arnold and Niles Pierpont and their wives. . . .

The proceeds from this shindig will go toward building a ski lodge for the club, which has a closed membership of 50 and has joined the U. S. E. A. S. A. for racing. Robert A. Lewis, Jr., is the chairman of this live outfit, and an energetic enthusiast.

Boston's OSHONI SKI CLUB held its first meeting of the season last month at the lodge in Bridgewater, N. H. Plans were formulated for the months ahead which include all dances and Sunday night suppers where celebrities will give informal talks to the members. The club expects to compete in several races this season, and a team will be picked later.

Ray Howlett, Oshoni president who also graces Asa Osborn's store, recently attended the U. S. E. A. S. A. convention in Worcester, Mass., as a delegate. The racing schedule for 1941 was arranged here, and the Newfound Region was assigned the U. S. E. A. Women's Championships in March. . . .

The WINCHESTER SKI CLUB directors are planning to help pro-

PEABODY TESTS SKI TEACHERS

The United States Eastern Amateur Ski Association takes pleasure in announcing the first examination for the Certification of Professional Ski Instructors of the 1940-41 season to take place on Saturday, December 21 (and Sunday, December 22, if necessary).

Roland Peabody will be the head examiner and candidates are requested to meet at 9 a. m. Saturday at the Base Station of the Cannon Mountain Tramway, Franconia, N. H.

The charge for this examination is $15 and if the candidate fails, $10 of this is returned; $5 is kept to defray the cost of the examination. All money paid to the Committee in excess of expenses is used to advertise the successful candidates and their ski schools.

Each instructor who passes the examination receives a certificate as well as the USEASA pin.

There will be a pre-examination course beginning at 10 a. m. Wednesday, December 18 through Friday afternoon, December 20.

This must be attended by all candidates unless they have a certificate from a certified instructor stating that, in his opinion, the course is unnecessary. The charge for instruction will be $2 a day. For lodging accommodations, write Paul O'Neill, Franconia, N. H.

All those interested in taking this examination may apply for an application blank and a Blue Book which contains the information necessary for the written part of the test, to Ford K. Sayre, Hanover, N. H. If possible, applications should be returned to him by December 18.

Olympics Leave For New Jersey

The busy Boston Olympics take off from the Hub again today for another short stay on the road.

They are slated for another struggle with the River Vale Skeeters in New Jersey tonight, and then move over to Atlantic City for a contest with the Sea Gulls on Friday night.

Saturday evening the Pies will return to the Garden ice for the first time in two weeks. They meet the New York Rovers on Saturday night, and engage the River Vale Skeeters at the Depot on Sunday afternoon.

The Ski Jumper

By A. W. EDSON
From "Dartmouth Verse," 1925
If my ski should deviate one inch
From that hard, smooth, icy track

Far below,
Glistening a steel gray in the dim December light—
If a thong should snap—
Or if my senses, reeling at the dizzy speed,

Should fail me in that headlong
swoop

Far down the trestle—
There would be a sudden lunge,
And the sharp snap of hickory
on steel,

And the heavy impact of flesh
on ice, and a faint
Crunching of bone—
And the crowd way down below would gasp,

And then be hushed;
And a cloud of tiny snowflakes would gently settle
On a warm green jersey,
And melt.

But Heck! That's what makes it interesting!

SKIING IS GOING PLACES

They're even skiing in far-flung Hawaii! Really! The sport is indulged in this sub-tropical spot on the slopes of Manua Kea (15,825 feet) . . .

Skiers are also schussing in such remote and unexpected places as Patagonia, Mexico City, New Zealand, Afghanistan, Morocco, Kashmir and Japan. While castanets click in the casinos of Chile, still farther south, in the Andes, christies click on some of the most exciting runs of the world . . . TAP.

vent uncontrolled skiing, and have laid out a course of instruction for club members. They are stressing control, confidence, and ability in technique tests.

Dick Bradley, Bert Lindahl, and other members of the WILDCATS of Boston found their ski legs on Mt. Mansfield over the Nov. 11 weekend. This club is going to race in a big way this year. They were inspired by Karl Ackey, famous ski pro, who spoke at their dinner held recently at the Boston Yacht Club.

Numbering 100 skiers, the GLD COLONY SKI CLUB of Quincy has bought a lodge at New Hampton, N. H., for its headquarters. Niles Pierpont will coach members in all phases of skiing . . .

HEADED BY Billy Wales, the NEWTON SKI RUNNERS managed to get in some practice at the Commonwealth C. C. last week before the snow did its usual disappearing act. These lads are all set to race . . .

Up in New Hampshire, the initial meeting of the NASHUA SKI CLUB will be held Friday night at the Kewwood Hotel. Motion pictures of "Skiing at Lake Placid" will be shown. This is an open meeting, and all members may bring friends. Rita Hudson will preside as secretary . . .

This coming Friday evening is the date set for a virola party at the Old Mill in Arlington where the FYK (FEEL) SKI CLUB—"Fyk" meaning snow spray in Norwegian—will hold away. Everett Frink is president of this club, with Eleanor Keane as vice-president, and Eileen Garrity, secretary. This club has a nice lodge in Laconia, N. H.

Fired

Refusing to break under the incessant bombings by Nazi raiders, London carries on despite the attacks . . . and here, firemen play hoses on the burning shell of a building, ruined and fired by German bombs.

Salvage

Assisting a bombed-out family in salvaging belongings from their wrecked home, a British soldier extends a helping hand to an aged woman who had tripped over the debris. British censors didn't identify the town.

Taxi Under Debris—Raiding German fliers didn't intend this wrecked taxicab as a target when they blasted London during a recent raid . . . but falling wreckage of building they hit did the job for them. Rescue workers inspect the damage.
